COOP PAY AT COOP PRICE BROKE BODY BUILDERS

Firm Which Prospered by 'Dressing Up' Fords Bankrupt Because Ford Now Does It Himself.

When Henry Ford began building things that he called coupes, and which the general public insisted upon calling "coops," body builders saw their chance, as accessory makers had seen their chance, and began supplying what the Ford "coops" lacked, which was style.

The body builders would take the ugly duckling and give it lines and make a swan of it. They would take off the coop and replace it with a koo-pay and a koo-pay de luxe and that. And they did it and people bought it.

But when Ford saw machines going by that snorted like Ford coops but looked like "koo-pers," he ordered

As soon as the new model came out, with no higher original price, some of the body makers found

One of the concerns that was making bodies and money was the Coupe de Luxe Body Co., Thirteenth and Nutger streets. Yesterday it filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy, stating liabilities at $150,026.19, and assets at $107,250.40.

The officials of the company say Ford "stole their stuff" and that's

U.S. JUDGESHIP WHERE PLAYING FOR POLITICIANS

Position Created 14 Months Ago to "Keep Judge Faris' Health From Breaking" Still Unfilled.

ONE OF 24 CREATED BY LAST CONGRESS

Congress in Court Continues to Grow Due to Senator Spencer's Insistence on Garesche.

By CHARLES G. ROSS, Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Because of the congested condition of Federal Court dockets throughout the United States, Congress passed a bill in September, 1922, creating 24 new District Judges. The bill had the strong endorsement of the Department of Justice, the American Bar Association, Chief Justice Taft and of lawyers generally. One new Judge was provided for the Eastern District of Missouri in each of which, according to testimony before congressional committees, the burden of a docket swollen by the Volstead act and other new Federal laws had become too heavy for a single judge to carry.

Judge Faris of the Eastern District wrote in April, 1922, while the bill was being debated, that his health was breaking under the strain. It was "humanely impossible," he said, for one man to do the work required of him.

After long discussion, an agreement was finally reached on the particular districts to be awarded additional Judges, and the bill was passed and approved by the President.

Playing for Politicians.

More than 14 months have elapsed and Judge Faris is still without an associate. The Western District appointment was made months ago, and with two or three exceptions all the other Judges created by the bill have been filled. The Eastern District Judgeship exists only on the statute books—a constructive but not an actual Judgeship—a playing for the position, but without the usual consequences of a playing for the position. It is a position which is still without an occupant, and the public that needs relief from a growing congestion of court business.

The reason for the delay in filling the vacancy can be told in one word—politics. It would seem that a couple of months, at most, ought to suffice the President for a selective process that would yield him some outstanding lawyer for the position. But politics keeps the selection from being the comparatively simple matter of picking out the best available man. The ritual of the political system demands, in the first place, that a Republican President shall appoint a Republican Judge. Second, it makes the appointment a prerogative of the Republican Senator or Senators from the State affected. Unless there is some grave reason for contrary action, Judgeships are filled on the recommendations of those to whom political custom has assigned them as patronage.

In the Missouri case, Senator Spencer at once went to bat for former Circuit Judge Vital W. Garesche. If it had not been for the embarrassment that Spencer had later brought upon the administration by his recommendation of Nat Goodstein for another Federal post, it is probable that Garesche would have been named without much delay. As it was, President Harding hesitated. He wanted to oblige Spencer, but he disliked running the risk of another senatorial storm.

63 LEGISLATORS PLEDGED FOR SPEED ON ROAD WORK

Ten Others of 83 Replying in Auto Club Poll Promise Aid With Reservations, if Hyde Calls Special Session.

Support of legislation proposed to provide more revenue for roads and to enable speeding up of the State highway construction program, if Gov. Hyde call a special session of the Legislature, is pledged by 63 members of the Senate and House in 83 replies received thus far in the poll of the Legislature by the Automobile Club of Missouri.

Of the 29 other Legislators answering the questionnaire, about half have stated they were favorable to the program, but made reservations on the proposed revenue legislation. The total membership of the Legislature is 184, including 79 Democrats and 83 Republicans in the Senate, and 105 Democrats and 67 Republicans in the House.

William King, manager of the club, today stated replies favorable to the proposed program have been received from five of the seven members of the Senate Advisory Committee on Roads and Bridges. McCawley of Carthage (Dem.) was known to be favorable to the program.

Advisory Members Favorable.

The members of the Senate Advisory Committee, responding favorably to the club questionnaire were Nick Cave, Democrat, of Fulton; S. A. Cunningham, Democrat, of St. Louis; Harry Brunk, Republican, of Aurora; William E. Caulfield and Peter Anderson, Republicans, of St. Louis. By telephone Senator McCawley today stated he favored the program and is sending in his questionnaire.

Former Lieutenant-Governor William R. Painter, of Carrollton, now Senator from the Eighth District, is the only member of the committee who has not been heard from. Painter, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, has advocated no further issuance of bonds from the $500,000 issue voted, and offered a substitute plan of building the roads with revenue raised annually by taxation, increased motor vehicle fees and a gasoline tax.

Senator Cunningham suggested a test suit of the validity of the proposed one-cent tax a gallon on gasoline be instituted prior to the next regular session of the Legislature. Included among the answers received today was that of Senator Richard E. Ralph, Republican, of Valley Park, who gave assurance of his support for the bill program. Senator Michael Kinney, Democrat, St. Louis, also stated he was favorable to speeding up the program, but had not reached a decision on the revenue measures.

Support of Two-thirds Desired.

The poll was started by the Automobile Club to pledge the support of two-thirds of the members of the Legislature to a definite legislative program, after Gov. Hyde had declined to call a special session on the grounds that no definite plan was submitted. His advisors also feared the Democrats, who control both houses, may make the special session an occasion for political maneuvering to harass the administration on the eve of an election year.

HERRICK'S REPORT ON ALLIED MEETING INTERESTS CAPITAL

State Department Declines to Make Public Note, Digest of Which Was Printed by Post-Dispatch.

Post-Dispatch Bureau, 20-23 Wyatt Building.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The exclusive story in the Post-Dispatch of the New York World lifting the veil of secrecy from Monday's meeting of the Allied Council of Ambassadors in Paris and shipping this Premier Poincare was shipped into the State Department by a direct threat of withdrawal from all interested bodies, was read with great interest in administration, congressional and diplomatic quarters.

At the State Department, officials declined to make public the text of the report transmitted by Ambassador Herrick to Secretary Hughes following the meeting of the council, on the ground that all such communications are confidential.

While insisting that Ambassador Herrick's report contains matter not touched upon in the Post-Dispatch and World's story and hinting that certain statements in the published version are not in line with the report, officials did not deny the essential facts as published.

The declaration by one official that other published reports concerning what transpired in the council chamber bear out the Post-Dispatch-World digest of Ambassador Herrick's communication "without the embroidery," was construed as a confirmation of all essentials of the digest.

Even while conceding all this, however, officials insist that the Herrick report did not "leak" and give one the impression of being happy in the belief that nobody has put it over on Uncle Sam.

All of which would seem to lead to the general conclusion that Ambassador Herrick is at least as good a reporter as some critics on the other side of the Atlantic for he confirmed what others have written, added numerous wallows which were omitted and which found their way into the Post-Dispatch and the World, and some others that the State Department continues to keep exclusively for official consumption.

The question now being asked here is how long the latest patch will hold. The Entente, whether the fact that the French Premier found it necessary to yield completely will not have embarrassing political consequences for him in the immediate future.

GERMANS SUBMIT DATA ON ECONOMIC STATUS OF NATION

Reparations Commission Told That Documents Are Available on Capacity of Germany to Pay.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Nov. 23.—The allied Reparations Commission today heard the German delegation regarding the capacity of the Reich to pay. The sitting lasted an hour and a half, being entirely occupied by an exposition of the German economic and financial situation by Dr. Fischer, under secretary of treasury for the Reich.

In conclusion Dr. Fischer informed the commission that a number of documents were available in support of his declarations, and that the German delegation would hold itself at the disposal of the reparations delegates for any information it could supply verbally.

The commission, which seemed to find the statement sufficiently explicit, will consider Dr. Fischer's declarations and the supporting documents next Tuesday and will probably then decide whether it is necessary to call the delegation again.

In addition to Dr. Fischer, who is president of the German War Burdens Commission, the other members of the German delegation were Dr. Brandt of the Ministry of Finance, Dr. S. Schaeffer of the Ministry of Commerce; Dr. Simons of the Foreign Ministry; Meyer Later, member of the War Burdens Commission; Herr Wolf of the Ministry of Communications; Herr Reichardt of the Ministry of Public Economy, and Herr Michaels, interpreter for the War Burdens Commission.

By FERDINAND TUDY, Paris Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1923, by the Press and Post-Dispatch Publishing Co., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, Nov. 23.—Today, according to the most reliable information available, German members of the War Burdens Commission will appear before the Reparations Commission and read a declaration of the hopeless chaos of German finances and ask for a long moratorium.

All parties recognize that the timid notes from the Council of Ambassadors to Germany constitute merely a truce for a few weeks pending the British elections.

There is some chiding of Premier Poincare for climbing down and "acting like Briand at Cannes," suffering "the greatest diplomatic humiliation since the armistice."

MAGNUS JOHNSON AND WALLACE TO MEET IN A MILKING CONTEST

New Dairies Farmer Senator and Agriculture Secretary to Work With-out Tilt Holders.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Having mastered the labyrinthine passages of the Capitol, settled his office, rented a house, and, finally, having been introduced to Senator Lodge, Magnus Johnson, the new dairy farmer Senator from Minnesota, is all set for the opening of Congress.

Meanwhile, being a man of action, and to keep in trim, he has challenged Secretary Wallace of the Department of Agriculture to a milking contest. The date has not been set, but the contest will be staged in one of the model dairy barns at the Government farm at Beltsville, Md. It will be dryland, pail between the knees, two quarts at a time straight away with tilt holders and anti-climbing devices barred, and without any of the fudging tricks invented long ago by the legion of farm hands who "can milk, but don't like to."

Home on the farm in Minnesota, Senator Johnson milks his share with his wife and boys. Secretary Wallace, having for some time been a publisher and more lately a Cabinet officer, may be out of training.

The trophy, although unannounced, will be Senator Johnson's opinion of Secretary Wallace as a farmer. That in fact is what led to the challenge.

When Senator Johnson first came to Washington, he and Secretary Wallace were photographed together.

"We farmers must stand together," observed the Secretary. "Listen to that," ejaculated Senator Johnson. "We farmers!"

Bolter Explosion at School.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—A bolter exploded today in the cellar of St. Joseph's Commercial High School, on Bridge street, in Brooklyn, while the school was filled with pupils. No one was injured and the damage was slight.

INDUSTRIALISTS OF RUHR AND FRENCH SIGN AGREEMENT

Negotiations for Resumption of Operation of Plants in the Valley Are Concluded.

By the Associated Press.

DUESSELDORF, Nov. 23.—The leaders of industry in the Ruhr Valley with whom the French authorities have been negotiating for the resumption of operations in the industrial plants, signed an agreement with the French today.

Air Mail Pilot Keeps in Touch With Hangar 300 Miles Away by Radio for an Hour.

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 23.—When Pilot Jack Knight, veteran air mail carrier, returned to earth at North Platte, Neb., last night, after an hour in the air, during which he was in almost constant touch with the Omaha air mail hangar, nearly 300 miles away, it was proven conclusively that the one-man broadcast station for planes is a success, officials said.

Knight, with J. G. Mullen of Washington, air mail service radio expert, left Omaha yesterday morning, keeping up a running report of their trip en route.

Arriving at the Western Nebraska city they waited until 8 o'clock last night and after preliminary ground tests, went aloft and for an hour at varying altitudes broadcast messages.

With each plane equipped for sending and receiving messages, the air mail pilot will be able to make his position known at all times, can summon aid when forced to land, can be called back to his home station or warned of approaching storms, officials point out.

Banker Elected Rail Head.

EUROPEAN SITUATION PARTLY OUR FAULT SAYS UNDERWOOD

Senator Criticizes Foreign Policy and Failure to Use Moral Influence.

By the Associated Press.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 23.—The Republican administration's foreign policy today was criticized by Senator Underwood, who, in an address before the Georgia General Assembly, declared America, because it had failed to use its moral influence, was partly responsible for conditions in Europe.

"It is a significant fact," he said, "that during the past three years, for the first time since Franklin Roosevelt represented our Government at Versailles, America has been almost without diplomatic representation and influence in European affairs."

Food Prices Advance in England.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Wholesale prices on food in England made noticeable advance in September, as compared with August. Cereals advanced 3.2 per cent, meat and fish 2.2 per cent and other foods 3.7 per cent.

Slight Earthquake in Tokyo.

TOKYO, Nov. 23.—An earthquake shook Tokyo about 11:30 this morning, causing considerable excitement in the city. Some small buildings were slightly damaged. The streets were filled for a few minutes with frightened Japanese and foreigners.

CRIMINAL CHARGE AGAINST 2 DRIVERS FOR AUTO KILLING

Wife of One Died After Chinese He Drove Overturned — Other's Killed Negro Woman.

Two Motorists Flee Scenes of Accidents.

Five More Deaths Brought Total of Traffic Fatalities in St. Louis Traffic Week to Nine.

Automobile drivers who figured in two of five traffic fatalities reported yesterday were charged, criminal carelessness by a Coroner's jury today and held under $10,000 bail pending grand jury inquiry.

Yesterday's fatalities brought total to nine for Safety Week. There have been 133 deaths from auto accidents in the city this year.

One of the drivers charged with criminal carelessness is Fred May, 44 years old, of 2121A Grand avenue, whose wife, Marie, was killed Wednesday from injuries sustained when the May automobile overturned. The other driver was Harold Slanker, 22, of Washington street, Alton, who was killed by a truck which killed Mrs. Kitchen, 46, a negro, of 1409, Eleventh street.

May was unable to appear inquest, being at the city hospital with a fractured skull suffered the accident which caused his death.

Dan H. Hatfield of 1444A Union avenue, who was riding in a Compton car when May's automobile overturned on Park avenue 100 west of California avenue, testified that the car coming up Park avenue at a brisk clip and that it was near the street car it was first to the right and then to the left, finally skidding to a right angle, the street car rolling over on its side and his sister-in-law, Thomas B. May, of 2372A St. V. avenue, were thrown out, and Thomas May, who was riding in the front of the automobile, was killed. Hatfield testified that May was taken from the machine, noted an odor of liquor. At that time Mrs. May was only slightly injured, but her complications were developed, brought on pneumonia, and she died at Lutheran Hospital.

Truck Driver Describes Killing.

Slanker testified he was driving a truck north on Broadway upon approaching Franklin and saw Mrs. Kitchen crossing Broadway diagonally from east to west. He was another machine on his side he was afraid to swerve in direction.

Mrs. Kitchen stopped, as if wildered, and he turned to the left as he did so Mrs. Kitchen started to the left and the truck was crushed beneath her front wheel. The witness was able to say why he could not stop altogether when he saw Mrs. Kitchen waiting. He of Cottage avenue, was killed at 5 p. m. on King's highway, when he tried to cross in front of two automobiles traveling at a fast rate of speed. One machine stopped in time, but the other was crushed beneath it. The driver, Joseph H. of 4656 Dahlia avenue, driver of a car which struck Mahoney, had no chance to apply his brakes as Mahoney darted into the automobile.

DOCTORS REMOVE BRANDS OF SLAVERY FROM SISTERS' FACES

Two Arabian Girls Brought to United States After Rescue With Aid of British "Tommy."

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Bearing on their faces the tattoo brands of Arabian slavery, Rose and Helen Manerian, two young Armenian girls, are in the Chicago Memorial Hospital, where doctors are gradually removing the marks that had been a sign of servitude. The two have been brought to this country from Arabia by their brother, Horik, who learned of their whereabouts through English "Tommy," according to the stories told doctors and nurses at the hospital.

It was in 1915 when trouble started for Rose and Helen. With their father, mother and elder brother, they resided among the mountains in Urfa, Mesopotamia. Then came the Turkish troops and fighting. The father and brother disappeared. No one knows their fate.

The two children and their mother were herded into the desert where the mother died from exhaustion. A raid by Arabian corsairs carried the pair by camel caravan to the land of Ur, where a wealthy Arabian became their owner.

Here it was that the tattoos were placed on the forehead, cheeks and lips of the girls as a token of possession. Their master put them to watching sheep and caring for the camel train as they moved over the country.

After the armistice British soldiers learned of the two girls and in touch with their relatives helped to free them.

ROADS MUST INVEST $7,870,000,000 IN 10 YEARS
 Committee Estimates Amount Will Be Needed to Provide for Traffic Growth.
 WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—American railroads will have to make an investment of $7,870,000,000 in transportation facilities during the next 10 years in order to provide for the normal growth of traffic they expect, according to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

 A special committee on governmental relations to railroad transportation has placed this estimate before Julius H. Barnes, president of the Chamber, basing it upon the calculation that passenger business will increase 25 per cent and freight traffic one-third in the decade. The conclusion emphasized by the report is that Congress should refrain from altering the transportation act lest the roads be hampered in expanding.

 The sum named is the minimum the committee estimated, which will take care of the anticipated traffic load. Railroads now meet a traffic demand of 40,000,000,000 passenger miles annually in the United States, and 420,000,000,000 freight ton miles. In 1923 the necessity of delivering 50,000,000,000 passenger miles and 580,000,000,000 freight ton miles is foreseen. To handle this, railroads are said to need 28,350 miles of additional track, 13,200 new locomotives, 725,000 more freight cars and 12,300 more passenger coaches.

SEVEN NAMED IN VOTE FRAUDS
 U. S. Grand Jury Returns Indictments in Oklahoma Election.
 MUSKOGEE, Ok., Nov. 22.—Charges of fraud in the Congressional election last November, in which W. W. Hastings, Democrat, defeated Miss Alice Robertson for Congress, were made against seven men in indictments returned by a Federal grand jury here yesterday. The indictments, drawn under the District, are made against seven men in indictments returned by a Federal grand jury here yesterday. The indictments, drawn under the Federal corrupt practices act, allege that undue influence and financial considerations were used to sway votes.

ORDINANCE BARS KLAN PARADES

Atlantic City Forbids Use of Streets to Hooded Bands.

By Associated Press.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 11.

Agents Uptown Store

Vanderwerker & Olive
Open Saturday Night

The Ku Klux Klan or other hooded orders are forbidden use of the city's highways for parades, under the terms of ordinances which passed first reading today by the Board of City Commissioners.

The legislation was proposed by Mayor Baader, who recently called a mass meeting at which 2500 persons joined a Citizens' Vigilance Committee sworn to respond to emergency calls sounded from his office to suppress public demonstrations of hooded bands.

BLIND WOMEN ENJOY VISIT TO MUSEUM

Several Works of Sculpture of Special Interest.

An outing and pleasure trip a group of women from the Blind Home were taken Wednesday to the City Art Museum, where Miss Mary Powell of the educational department, and Mrs. Ella Bartholow, conducted the blind visitors through the sculpture court and his- tory galleries, which they viewed with their fingers. Explanations of the various ex- positions increased the pleasure, de- veloped by fingering them. Since the use of some of the statues prevented complete inspection in this manner, the interest was focused on the smaller pieces of sculpture. A highly developed sense of touch enabled the visitors to perceive by means of their super-sensitive finger the strength of modeling and feeling contrast of Auguste Rodin's "The Thinker," while Stephen Sinding's "The Mother" fascinated them because of its subject appeal and clear outline.

The gay little figure of "Madame Christened" by Ayton, for- merly of St. Louis, delighted them by the elusive charm of the little statue. The carvings and textures of the various furniture interested them, especially, although their great pleasure was found in the three pieces of sculpture.

KILLED BY 11-STORY FALL

Woman Apparently Fell or Leaped Out Window of Dentist's Office.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 22.—Mrs. M. E. Naber, 33 years old, wife of an attorney, died last night of in- jury suffered when she fell from the thirteenth story of an office building to a skylight two stories above the ground. She fell presumably from a win- dow of the office of Edgar T. Smith, dentist. Shoes, a coat and purse be- longing to Mrs. Naber, were found in the office near a window.

ACQUITTAL OF GANGSTER NOT TO AFFECT TRIAL OF OTHERS

Four Men Arrested With John Connell Separately Indicted on Concealed Weapons Charge.

Acquittal of John (Kink) Connell, Hogan gangster, of a charge of carrying concealed weapons by a jury in Circuit Judge Grimm's court yesterday will not affect trial of the other gangsters arrested with him March 23 in an automobile in which six loaded revolvers were found, Circuit Attorney Sidener declared today.

"The other defendants have been separately indicted and each will be tried when his case is reached," the Circuit Attorney said. The others are William Long, Charles Mercurio, Harry Greenberg and Humbert Costello. The latter is now in the State penitentiary serving a 25-year sentence for participation in the robbery Dec. 16, 1929, of the jewelry store of William Mauch & Son, 1423 South Broadway. He was free on an appeal bond when arrested in the automobile.

Judge Grimm and the Circuit Attorney entered into a long controversy as to whether the six men charged with carrying concealed weapons should be indicted jointly or severally. Judge Grimm sustained a defense motion to quash a joint indictment and the six were re-indicted separately.

Connell's attorney, Sigmund Bass, argued that there was nothing to show that Connell actually was concealing a weapon, in the meaning of the law. The weapons, detectives testified, were found on the floor.

TWO WITNESSES UNDOUBTEDLY TAMPERED WITH, JUDGE SAYS

As They Fail to Substantiate Previous Identification of Man as Burglar He Goes Free.

A charge of second-degree burglary against Edward Martin, 18 years old, of 1809 North Jefferson avenue, was dismissed in Circuit Judge Grimm's court yesterday when two witnesses failed to substantiate identification of him they had made previously. Martin was charged with burglary of the home of Mrs. Jeannette Schroder, 2576
Palm street, Dec. 22 last.

Mrs. Schroder and Preston Anstyn of 1112 Fair avenue, who works in a blacksmith shop across the street from Mrs. Schroder's home, previously had identified Martin as one of two burglars they saw leaving the house. Yesterday they declared on the witness stand that they were not at all sure he was one of those men.

Mrs. Schroder, who testified she entered her home as the burglars were leaving, admitted she had been interviewed by a sister of Martin since his arrest.

After hearing their uncertain testimony yesterday, Assistant Circuit Attorney Johnston told the court he could see no reason for proceeding further, so he dismissed the case.
Dismissing the jurors, Judge Grimm said to them: "Here are two witnesses who undoubtedly have been tampered with. You have just witnessed an edifying spectacle which makes a farce of the administration of justice. The woman admits that the sister of the defendant interviewed her, and it is evident that the man is camouflaging the truth."

If Hiram Johnson
a Progress Washing

Of All Senators Wear
Progressive Label, Alone Has Not Declared
in Favor of Freeing "Political Prisoners."

By CHARLES G. ROSS,
Chief Washington Correspondent
the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Senator Hiram Johnson's announcement that he is running for the presidency as a "Progressive" candidate on a "Progressive" platform, against the forces of reaction, has drawn from all comment in many quarters where the Senator's record is known, a special mention of the man who has championed the cause of the "political prisoners." Of all the Senators who wear the label of Progressive, Johnson is the only one who has not declared himself in favor of the release of the "free-speech" prisoners, who, more than five years after the end of the war, are still serving terms under an emergency war-time law.

Members of the Joint American Committee frequently raise questions on this subject, but always have been put off. When Johnson was he last August he dodged the question by saying that he knew nothing about the cases. His professional ignorance struck the inquirer as a strangely odd in view of the fact that California is more interested in a that pertains to the I. W. W.—an organization to which most of the prisoners belong—than in any other State. The Senator was not so aware of another paramount concern of his State—the growing citrus fruits—when the Mordney-Cumby Tariff bill was being framed.

Many convicted in California. Most of the prisoners for whom clemency is being urged were convicted in the Senator's home state at Sacramento, in a trial that secured conspicuously on the front pages of the newspapers throughout the State. And no newspaper was more interested than the Sacramento Bee, which declared: "The men taken in raids against the I. W. W., that the best thing to do is to shoot them and not wait for a trial, either." The Bee is owned and edited by Charles M. McDade, a friend and supporter of Senator Johnson.

When Johnson was Governor moreover, both sides of the long-standing feud between the State authorities and the I. W. W., called to his attention, and on one occasion, at least, he took a personal hand in the affair, by sending his Attorney-General to San Diego to restore order after activities of the Vigilance Committee against the I. W. W. had thrown the city into turmoil.

All things considered, it seems strange that the Senator from California didn't know about the nationally celebrated case of the I.

PARIS, Nov. 23.—France's reply to the Smoot proposal—painful but not unexpected—for consolidation of the French war debt to the United States will be in essence that it cannot pay until she receives 10,000,000,000 gold marks from Germany, and that the war debts will be incurred in a common cause should be treated accordingly. Nevertheless the French Government realizes some active measure must be taken to satisfy Washington. It is considering the dispatch of another committee to America endeavor to come to some agreement.

It is a fact that the French people strongly on the point that the war debts were a common expense and therefore it is unreasonable to insist on prompt settlement from allies who bore the brunt of the fighting. It is recalled the credit of Congress authorizing the credit applied by the words "Credits to the conduct of the common war." In the minds of the French people the idea is rooted that the war debts are inextricably bound up with reparations. It is declared France needs for the devastated regions more than she ever got from Germany. Further she is addled with internal and external debts of over 1,400,000,000 francs. She sticks, consequently, to the theory of repaying America with the worthless German class C reparations bonds. However, the French Government is ready to begin negotiations for the debt. It might be wise

If Hiram Johnson Is a Progressive, Not All Washington Believes It

BY CHARLES G. ROSS, Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Senator Hiram Johnson's announcement that he is running for the presidency as a "progressive" candidate on a "Progressive" platform, against the "reactionary" platform, has drawn ironical comment in many quarters where the Senator's record is known, and especially among the men and women who have championed the cause of the "political prisoners."

Of all the Senators who wear the label of "Progressive," Johnson is the only one who has not declared himself in favor of the release of these "political" prisoners, who, more than five years after the end of the war, are still serving terms under emergency wartime laws.

Members of the Joint Amnesty Committee frequently have sought an expression from the California on this subject, but always have been told off. When Johnson was here last August he dodged the question by saying that he knew nothing about the cases. His profession of ignorance struck the inquirer as extremely odd in view of the fact that California is more interested in all that pertains to the I. W. ## "GAG" POWER OF BENCH ATTACKED IN SENTENCE OF CRAIG Congress Will Be Asked to Enact a Law Preventing Judge in Contempt Case From Acting as Jury.

"MONSTROUS THING," AMOS PINCHOT SAYS

Coolidge Alone Stands Between New York Official, Who Criticized Federal Jurist, and Prison Term.

By Leased Wire from the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Growing resentment in many parts of the country against conditions that make it possible to imprison Comptroller Charles L. Craig for expressing his opinion of a court receivership began to focus itself yesterday in a demand that concrete action be taken to save Craig from jail and make a repetition of such a situation impossible. Chief among the developments were the following:

A combination of three Republican representatives, one in Pennsylvania and two in New York, in agreement to help obtain the enactment of a law which will prevent a Judge in a contempt action such as the one against Craig, from acting as complainant Judge and jury to convict his prisoner. This was taken as evidence of Republican sentiment sufficient to combine with the Democratic representatives to enact such a law.

Information that well qualified attorneys in the United States Attorney's office have looked over the Craig matter and decided to file a petition with the President to pardon the Comptroller under the broad grant given in the Constitution to the country's chief executive to give clemency for all offenses except those meriting impeachment.

A story which gained wide circulation, but was not verified, that President Harding before his death had given some consideration to the case of Craig, and that a pardon might be granted in case of the present emergency.

All Legal Moves Exhausted. The failure of the contemplated last legal move in connection with the case, which had been under consideration Wednesday night, this means that only the President stands between Craig and prison.

A letter from Amos Pinchot, well-known liberal, to Judge Mayer, in which Pinchot denounced the sentence of Craig as a "monstrous thing" and virtually invited Judge Mayer to send him to jail for making such an accusation.

The declaration of Supreme Court Justice John Ford that, in his opinion, Craig had not committed contempt of court. This statement must be taken in connection with the knowledge that the United States Supreme Court did not pass on the merits of Craig's conviction, but only on the jurisdiction of the Judge.

Word came from Washington that the Republican politicians were extremely embarrassed with the Craig sentence as a political proposition and wished it were well off their hands.

Craig went to jail to see a black eye for the party. The black eye will be going outside his constitutional rights if he pardons Craig and will decide accordingly. And they are certain the imprisonment will be taken in connection with the big effect on the election in New York State.

Tremendous pressure is expected from the frightened friends of the administration to get the pardon as the best way out of the mess.

Appeal to White House. Following the announcement of Representative La Guardia that he would introduce on the first day of the next Congress a bill on Craig's behalf, Representative Thomas Jefferson Ryan announced that he had been in conference with Representative Clarke of the Thirty-fourth New York District and Representative Conley of Pennsylvania, and that the three were willing to back a bill to prevent a Judge from acting in a case where he is complainant. Such a contempt, unless committed in the presence of Court, would, under the proposal, be heard by another Judge.

The first actual appeal to the White House was made by Edward P. Doyle, who went to Washington and presented the case. Doyle's imprisonment would interfere with the conduct of the city's business. Doyle was referred to the Department of Justice by Secretary Siemph, who explained that the matter had not yet had the matter up with the President.

The opinion that such a pardon would be legal was upheld in conversations with a reporter by two of the most eminent lawyers in New York City, who are not yet ready to be quoted. The broad powers given in the Constitution were referred to in connection with the fact that if the President should offer such a pardon there is no process at law by which he may be stopped. In short, it was pointed out that what he says in the matter of a pardon is legal, so long as it is not an impeachment case.

At the Department of Justice in Washington, the President's pardon power was being discussed. The President's pardon power was being discussed. The President's pardon power was being discussed.

Starting a Light to Burn Forever on French Unknown Hero's Grave

Minister of War Maginot of France is seen, with alcohol torch suspended from a sword, lighting the memorial lamp at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, in Paris, which is "to burn forever." The Minister earned his right to this task, as well as to his present Cabinet portfolio, as a simple Sergeant in the great war, when he lost a leg.

ULSTER UNIONISTS TO MAKE BOUNDARY LINE BIG ISSUE

Representatives in Parliament Bitter in Attacks on British Radicals and Laborites.

From a Staff Correspondent of the Manchester Guardian, the Post-Dispatch and the New York World. Copyright, 1923, by the Press and Publishing Co., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

BELFAST, Nov. 23.—It is now clear that Ulster Unionists mean to make the boundary line between Northern and Southern Ireland the burning question for them on both sides of the channel in the coming elections.

Deputations who leave Belfast for England and Scotland will be instructed to keep this matter before the electors. The four Unionist members of Parliament for Belfast are making bitter attacks on British radicals and laborites. Capt. Dixon, candidate for East Belfast, declares: "The radical desire to get rid of the special constabulary. What is the sinister motive behind this policy? It is a move to bring about chaos in Ulster. No radical is really happy unless Irish blood is flowing, and radicals believe if they get rid of the special constabulary Ulster can be submerged."

DENIES ATTACKING MARCONI CO.

Australian Premier Repudiates Report of Conference Speech.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and the Manchester Guardian, the Post-Dispatch and the New York World. Copyright, 1923, by the Press and Publishing Co., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—During the Imperial Conference reports of speeches made in secret session were issued days later and often bore little resemblance to those actually made. The result was a denial by Premier Bruce of Australia that he made the reference to the Marconi Co. credited to him.

"We have had dealings with these people in Australia," the official report of his speech read. "We found them very difficult. Everybody there regards them with the gravest suspicion." This forms the last paragraph of the address attributed to Bruce, and he insists: "It will be obvious to any reader that my speech concludes with the preceding paragraph." Marconi officials charge the paragraph was added to injure their concern or for stock-market purposes. It is feared a scandal may develop.

"You sentenced Mr. Craig to prison on the ground that your order seemed to him a monstrous thing. I do not know whether it was monstrous or not, for I am unfamiliar with the circumstances of your receivership. But to me your sentencing of Mr. Craig was a very monstrous thing. And, may I say, an ignorant act which no man of good sense could believe you were capable of if he understood history and knew the story of the long, self-sacrificing and often bloody struggle which other men of equal good will and more intelligence carried on for centuries and in many lands, to secure for their children the measure of freedom of speech and conscience which is ours today."

"Again, may I say that, if you are consistent and believe you were justified in jailing Craig for criticizing your order in 1921 you have no choice but to conclude that you would be equally justified in jailing me and others who criticize your sentence of Craig today. In both cases a judicial decision is the subject of criticism, and certainly our criticism impedes the enforcement of your decision no less and no more than did his. Nevertheless, imagine your order as you have done rarely has courage as to his convictions or any other case, and second, because you are probably aware that the public would not take kindly to a repetition by you of so obvious and subversive a violation of the spirit of this country's fundamental law."

Craig was sentenced in 1921 as a result of a letter sent by him in October, 1919, to Public Service Commissioner Louis Nixon, in which he pointed the Federal receiver for the Brooklyn Rapid Transit System, had denied the city the right to inspect the original records of the railway company and was "standing between the public and the truth."

Supervisory Committee Debates Mayor's Bond Proposal but Defers Final Decision Until Next Week

Comptroller Nolte Says Tax Rate Will Be $2.58 on $100 Valuation If 1924 Bond Sale Is Doubled, as Suggested.

Mayor Kiel's proposal to double the $5,000,000 bond sale authorized for 1924, in the ordinance governing sale of the $12,000,000 in public improvement bonds, was debated for nearly two hours by the Citizens' Supervisory Committee yesterday afternoon, without a decision, and then laid over for a second time, until a meeting next Wednesday.

Opinion in the committee appeared divided on the necessity of adhering to campaign pledges made before the bond election last February. One of these promises was that taxation would be held down by a plan to spread the bond sales over 10 years, with a maximum issue specified for each year. This plan, later incorporated without change in the bond sale ordinance, fixed $5,000,000 as the maximum for 1924.

Nolte's Statement.

Comptroller Nolte appeared at the invitation of the committee, to explain his views in opposing the increase when it was proposed by the Mayor in the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. He stated he had voted against the increase on the ground that it would break faith with the people.

"The Federal Government is trying to cut taxes, the people want such a reduction, and expect it of us, instead of an increase," Comptroller Nolte said. "As a fiscal agent of the city I did not feel justified in approving $5,000,000 additional. I think the proper thing to do is to sell the $5,000,000 in bonds as stated in the bond issue program and in the promises made to the people."

As related in the Post-Dispatch yesterday, Comptroller Nolte stated that a $10,000,000 bond sale next year, coupled with other assured tax increases, would increase the tax rate for 1924 to at least $2.58 on the $100 assessed valuation. This would be an increase of 15 cents over the 1923 rate of $2.43.

Other Possible Increases.

This prospective increase for 1924, the Comptroller added, does not take into consideration possible increases in the rate for State and municipal purposes. The possibility of there being no change in the State and municipal rates, Nolte said, "is a condition which I do not look forward to with confidence."

The committee had before it two tentative outlines prepared by the Board of Public Service on work that could be done in 1924, one fitting the $10,000,000 program, proposed by the Mayor, and the other the $5,000,000 program fixed in the bond ordinance.

The latter outline, ostensibly for $5,000,000, in reality contemplates a $7,000,000 issue next year, as it does not include a $2,000,000 revolving fund to be set up to pay for property condemned for bond issue purposes. City officials have declared this revolving fund must be provided next year, to enable condemnation work to go forward.

conformity with the 1924 authorization, and the $2,000,000 revolving fund as an "emergency." Before a vote was taken the committee decided to defer action until the next meeting.

Nolte Suggests Program.

Comptroller Nolte had been asked by committee members if he could suggest a program that would stay within the $5,000,000, and include the revolving fund. He suggested one, as follows:

Revolving fund, $2,000,000; construction of new Union Market, $1,000,000; survey of streets to be widened, $25,000; paving of streets, $270,000; reconstruction of old sewers, $392,000; construction of new sewers, $125,000; new parks and playgrounds, $50,000; power plant and service plant for municipal buildings, $500,000; Fire Department purposes, $158,000.

Nolte told the committee his department had been reliably informed the school tax rate for 1924 would be 88 cents, an increase of 6 cents. He furnished the following figures for the additional increases that will be necessary for bond purposes:

An increase of 5 cents will be required if $5,000,000 in bonds are issued in 1924, making the total $2.52, barring possible increases for State and municipal purposes.

An increase of 9 cents will be required if $10,000,000 in bonds are sold, making the total tax rate $2.58.

Nolte pointed out that the cost of the municipal government will be increased as new buildings are constructed in the bond program, due to maintenance charges and additional employees. He recalled also that the city is confronted with demands from hundreds of employees for salary increases, which were refused this year, although many of the demands were meritorious.

O. J. McCawley, a member of the committee, and president of the Real Estate Exchange, presented a letter from the board of directors of the exchange, urging that the program for 1924 be kept within the $5,000,000 authorized, in keeping with the campaign promises.

William T. Jones, president of the Citizens City Plan Association, appeared before the committee to urge adoption of the $10,000,000 program. He said he was not familiar with details of the program, but expressed the view that citizens would be compensated for enlarging of the program, by the benefits received. He pointed out that the revolving fund and $1,000,000 for a new market would leave only $2,000,000 for other work, in a $5,000,000 program.

The enlarged program was urged by Thomas W. Garland, representing the Downtown Improvement Association and Associated Retailers. He said the business men wanted early results and "the people are not

COMMITTEE OF 400 ON DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION FUND

Organization Meeting Scheduled for First Week in December in the Office of the Mayor.

J. E. SMITH LIKELY TO BE THE CHAIRMAN

Body to Be Nonpartisan and Composed of Men Active in Industrial and Financial Circles.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Jan. 15 has been set as the tentative date for the meeting here of the Democratic National Committee to select a city and date for the 1924 national convention. A call for the meeting is to be issued early next month by Chairman Hull, who said today that the mid-January date seemed to represent the consensus of opinion after a canvass among a number of committee members.

Keen competition for the convention is in prospect. With New York City already waging a vigorous campaign, a number of other cities are promised as competitors. Among these are St. Louis, San Francisco, Louisville and Atlanta. Chicago and Cleveland also may present invitations, depending upon the choice made by the Republican committee.

Active work of raising the $100,000 minimum fund to bring the Democratic National Convention to St. Louis next year will begin immediately following the meeting at a general committee of 400, scheduled for the first week in December.

The organization committee, appointed by resolution of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, will meet Tuesday afternoon at the office of the St. Louis Conventions and Publicity Bureau to consider the personnel of the general committee.

Members of the organization committee, who represent 12 of the leading commercial organizations of the city, are selected the most active members of their respective bodies for appointment to the general committee. This committee will be nonpartisan and will be composed of outstanding figures in commercial, industrial and financial circles.

Smith Favored for Chairman.

Its organization meeting will be at the Mayor's office. The election of permanent officers and appointment of subcommittees will be the first order of business. The organization committee will recommend that James E. Smith, president of the Mississippi Valley Association, be appointed chairman of the campaign committee. He was in charge of arrangements for the 1916 Democratic National Convention in St. Louis.

A finance committee is one of the most important to be appointed, as it will have direct charge of the fund-raising campaign. As is known, one-third of the $100,000 fund has been guaranteed by the Hotel Men's Association and the Associated Retailers.

Missionary work on behalf of St. Louis is being done this week by Memphis among Democratic politicians from many of the central states who are attending the annual convention of the Mississippi Valley Association at the Hotel Men's Association.

H. W. Geller, president of the Conventions and Publicity Bureau and acting chairman of the Organization Committee, went to Memphis Wednesday to urge St. Louis for the Democratic convention and also to invite the Mississippi Valley Association to hold its 1924 convention in St. Louis, the week preceding the Democratic convention, if possible.

Chicago to Bid for the Next Democratic National Convention.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Chicago will make a bid for the Democratic national convention when the party National Committee meets in Washington to consider the petitions of New York, Cleveland, St. Louis and other cities that want the convention, according to plans here.

Mayor W. E. Dever has been named as the probable speaker for the Chicago delegation. A convention committee of the Association of Commerce is said to be well along toward the $250,000 necessary to cover expenses.

The last Democratic national convention in Chicago was held 23 years ago.

worrying about what you spend. They will forget the cost when they see the results." Frank Gerhart, member of the committee, replied that the people at large should be considered, "as the retailers are not really direct taxpayers. If we go back on the election pledges and increase the amount, and the tax rate, it necessarily will increase rates, which already are prohibitively high."

BRAMHMS' G-MINOR HAS RESPECTFUL READING

Borowski's Prize Piece and Saint-Saens Aria Are Novelties at Symphony Concert.

By RICHARD L. STOKES.
The reading given by Mr. Gans to that Olympian masterpiece, the First Symphony of Johannes Brahms, last night at the Odeon, appeared to us correct, painstaking and respectful, but rarely winged and frequently pedestrian. The beginning in that cathedral-like proclamation of chromatic harmonies, was impressive and haunting; the playing of the gaily melodious theme of the Prelude set up a song in the hearts of the hearers; and the chorus for bassoons and trombones, all in the last movement, was chanting with rich and imposing tone.

But in general, the orchestra seemed to have lost some of that insouciant coalescence, that blended sympathy, which rejoiced us at the first two concerts of the season. We heard their playing simultaneously, but not always as an orchestra. We heard notes, but not invariably music. And Brahms, in this profound and classical epic, merits a voice of pure gold, grave and winning eloquence, largeness of soul.

Probably the small attendance had a depressing effect. Nothing is more humiliating to performers than blank rows of empty boxes, and derivative of unused seats. Unfavorable weather was held responsible officially. But with a few more such audiences, the management is likely to find its change from Saturday to Thursday nights a costly experiment.

A New Saint-Saens Aria.
There was presented, moreover, a soloist who seemed to many not entirely equal to the standards which should prevail. This was Miss Lazzari, contralto, formerly of various operatic companies. She offered two of the most hackneyed arias in the world, "Ah, non più" from Meyerbeer's "Le Prophète" and "Amour, viens aider ma débilité," from "Samson et Dalila." But amends were made, in this respect, by the addition—we believe, at the instance of Mr. Gans—of a remarkable aria, new to this city, by Saint-Saens, "La Plaisance du Thibault."

This is a setting of a moving ballad by Victor Hugo, in which a girl waits at the portals of a city, for the triumphal entry of the troops with which her lover, a kettledrummer, rode away to the wars. The glittering, victorious cavalcade passes, with all the pomp of martial music, but the maiden fails dead with grief on finding that her drummer is missing from the ranks.

Unluckily, all of Miss Lazzari's numbers were dramatic and emotional, while she seemed able to master only the sketchiest vestiges of action and feeling. There was a singular lack of temperamental, a cold, curiously ligneous, together with a rather unmusical voice, the perfect feature of which was its brilliant chest register.

Borowski's Prize Composition.
Another first-time work was a Prize Composition, "Youth," by the noted Chicago composer, Felix Borowski, who won with this piece, now 44 rivals, a prize of $1000 awarded last May by the North American Association of Composers. It is a composition of an admirable quality; archaic as Beethoven, to be true, in construction and harmonic vocabulary, but eminently rhythmic and melodic, and instrumented with a solidity and confidence bespeaking an adept of the orchestra. The spirit had the order and capture of the work's title. One doubts that the composer would have approved of Mr. Gans's buoyant interpretation.

Will of Porter Pickett.
The will of Porter Pickett, 4012 Olive street, secretary of the Security Building Co., who died Monday, was filed yesterday in the Probate Court. He bequeathed $100 each to his wife, Arthur M. Branch, Louis H. Graves, James H. Harris, Minnie M. Branch and Carrie O. Davis, and the residue of his estate in trust for the benefit of his mother, Mrs. Porter Pickett. She is to receive $100 a month during her life. At her death the estate goes to his sister, Mrs. Mary Dunn of Greenville, Miss.

STARTS EASTERN TRIP

MISS ELEANOR ATKINS.

Miss Eleanor Atkins, daughter of Mrs. Antoinette Atkins of Waterman avenue, will depart the latter part of this week for New York to visit friends.

MISS FRANCES COLLINS.
Collins of Mrs. H. Blakesley, will be introduced to society tonight at a dinner-dance at the St. Louis Country Club, where so many of the debutantes have "come out" this season.

The hosts of the evening are to be her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Claude S. Kennerly of 28 Portland place. Mrs. Collins is in mourning, so will not be in the receiving line.

An unusual feature of the decorations will be a myriad of pink-shaded lights hung from the ceilings at varying heights, amid quantities of amaranths. The archway between the various rooms will be lighted with the same effect, and strands of the lights have been arranged at intervals of a few feet above the tables in the dining rooms. There will be pink roses on the tables and around the rooms.

The guests will include the debutantes and their escorts and a few of last year's debuts. Mrs. Kennerly will be gowned in black velvet and will carry orchids, and the debutante will wear white chiffon, trimmed with strands of pearls falling over her arms. A feature of her gown is to be an American beauty girl, dressed in a long white gown and forming the long waist line. Her flowers will be an arm bouquet of white roses, tied with stain bands to match the gown.

Miss Collins is a graduate of Miss Porter's School, at Farmington, Conn., and, with her mother, has spent much time in Europe. She is to share honors with Miss Rachel Lee Cuendet at a dinner tomorrow night, also given at the Country Club, when Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hascom of 62 Portland place will entertain 70 guests.

Conspicuous among the social activities of the week is the mixed tea to be given tomorrow afternoon by Mr. William Everett Guy of 19 Port Washington, in honor of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David Wade Guy, who are making their home with him. Their marriage took place in Paris in July. Mrs. Guy was Miss Maury Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Crawford of Birmingham, Ala. The receiving line will comprise Mr. Guy, his daughter, Miss Evelyn Guy, the honor guests, and their grandmothers, Mrs. Childs of 20 Windermere place in Boston. Miss Lumaghi is a freshman at Smith College, and her brother attends the Roxbury School in Connecticut.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Simmons of the Clayton and Hanley roads, and their daughter, Miss Dorothy, returned home last night from New York. They attended the Princeton-Harvard game Saturday.

Mrs. Henry Elliot of 11 Kingsbury place and her daughter, Miss Georgia, are in New York for a fortnight.

Miss Elizabeth Lumaghi and her brother, Charles, daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Lumaghi of 20 Windermere place, will spend the Thanksgiving holidays in Boston. Miss Lumaghi is a freshman at Smith College, and her brother attends the Roxbury School in Connecticut.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Kelly, formerly Miss Margaret Gross, has arrived from her home in Santa Fe, N. M., with her two small children to spend the holidays as the guest of her mother, Mrs. Jacob Gross of Normandy. On her return West, she will be accompanied by Mrs. Maurice J. Lonsway, 5927 Enright avenue. Miss Kitty Malone of Louisville, will come to St. Louis later in the winter to visit Mrs. Lonsway.

Among the St. Louis students at Vassar College, who will return to home for the Christmas holidays are Misses Grace Moulton, Katherine Woorman, Elizabeth Upthegrove, Marion Wickham and Eugenia Armstrong. They are graduates of the Mary Institute, class of last June. Miss Moulton was president of the class.

William Watkins Moulton, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Moulton, of 6227 McPherson avenue, a freshman at Yale, will be home for the Christmas holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Peters of 6245 Westminster place and Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Kirkpatrick of 4254 Park shing avenue, will depart the latter part of the week to spend Thanksgiving with Mrs. Peters' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bradshaw, in Louisville, Ky.

ENGAGEMENT OF MISS ELIZABETH MAURAN

Younger Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Mauran to Wed Charles Mullikin.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lawrence Mauran of 46 Vandeventer place, announce the engagement of their younger daughter, Miss Elizabeth Chapman Mauran, and Charles Mullikin, son of Mrs. James H. Nolan of Washington, D. C., and the late Charles Mullikin of St. Louis. The wedding date has not been set.

News of the betrothal is of unusual interest because of the social prominence of both families. Miss Mauran made her debut four years ago at a reception given by her mother, and became a member of the Imperial and the Junior League, in which she is particularly active.

Miss Mauran was graduated from Mary Institute and Miss Port's School in Farmington, Conn. Her sister, Miss Isabel Mauran, became the bride a year ago of William Van Wagoner of Boston.

Mr. Mullikin is a grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin O'Fallon, his mother having been Miss Sallie O'Fallon before her marriage. He attended the University of Virginia. During the war he was a member of the naval reserves. He is a member of the St. Louis Country Club.

A tea is to be given from 4 to 6 o'clock today by Mrs. James G. Smythe at her home, 5388 Pershing avenue. Mrs. W. Ewing Cox, formerly of New York, and Mrs. Vester Mullins, formerly of Kentucky, who recently came to St. Louis to reside, will receive with the hostess. About 125 guests are expected to call. The following group of Mrs. Smythe's friends have been invited to come without hats and alternate in serving at the tea and assisting: Mrs. J. T. Pedigo, Edward Miller, E. C. Hutchinson, Philip Frazer, James Harris, Eugene Skilken, Clark Johnson, Edward Stamm and Capel Beck.

A group of St. Louisians departed yesterday by motor for Chicago to attend the wedding of Miss Amelia Rector, daughter of the late Col. and Mrs. Elias W. Rector of Arkansas, and a sister of James A. Rector of 5548 Waterman avenue. The ceremony is to be performed at 6 o'clock Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Velt Hain. Mrs. Hain is the sister of the bride. The St. Louis party attending includes Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Brownrigg, Mr. and Mrs. Rector and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Eugene Blodgett. Mr. Brownrigg is a cousin of Mr. Houghton. They will return to St. Louis Monday.

Mrs. Louis Brinsmade of New York and her daughter, Miss Eleanor Brinsmade of Kingsbury court, the visitors have spent the past year and a half in Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Simmons of the Clayton and Hanley roads, and their daughter, Miss Dorothy, returned home last night from New York. They attended the Princeton-Harvard game Saturday.

Mrs. Henry Elliot of 11 Kingsbury place and her daughter, Miss Georgia, are in New York for a fortnight.

Miss Elizabeth Lumaghi and her brother, Charles, daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Lumaghi of 20 Windermere place, will spend the Thanksgiving holidays in Boston. Miss Lumaghi is a freshman at Smith College, and her brother attends the Roxbury School in Connecticut.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Kelly, formerly Miss Margaret Gross, has arrived from her home in Santa Fe, N. M., with her two small children to spend the holidays as the guest of her mother, Mrs. Jacob Gross of Normandy. On her return West, she will be accompanied by Mrs. Maurice J. Lonsway, 5927 Enright avenue. Miss Kitty Malone of Louisville, will come to St. Louis later in the winter to visit Mrs. Lonsway.

Among the St. Louis students at Vassar College, who will return to home for the Christmas holidays are Misses Grace Moulton, Katherine Woorman, Elizabeth Upthegrove, Marion Wickham and Eugenia Armstrong. They are graduates of the Mary Institute, class of last June. Miss Moulton was president of the class.

WILL PROVIDES FOR INSCRIPTION ON TOMB

Monument to Mrs. Sarah S. Mackin to Carry Epitaph "She Did What She Could for Humanity."

She Did What She Could for Humanity.
SALLIE BRITTON, PRINCESS SPOTTISWOOD MACKIN.

This inscription will appear on a monument to be erected in Bellefontaine Cemetery over the body of Mrs. Sarah S. Mackin, Princess of the Papal peerage and daughter of James H. Britton, once Mayor of St. Louis. She died last August in Harrison, N. Y.

Her will, filed yesterday in New York City, gives directions for her burial, which took place in August. The will directs that her body be buried in the habit of the oblates of the Benedictine order. This was done at that time, and she will then specify the wording of the inscription to be placed on the monument.

Requests are: To St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York, $1000; to the Catholic Church in Troy, Mo., $500; to Dr. G. S. Mooney of Yonkers, N. Y., $500; to Cardinal Vannutelli of the Papal Court, property located in Rome; to Mrs. Mackin's two sisters living in New York City and Yonkers, her jewelry. The residue of the estate is placed in trust for the benefit of her nephew, Robert L. Nibbet, and at his death is to continue for the benefit of her sister, Mrs. Fannie Nibbet, who was State Treasurer of New York. After his death she lived in Europe and wrote the book, "A Society Woman of Two Continents." Her first title, that of Countess, was bestowed by Pope Leo XIII, and Pope Pius X raised her to the rank of Princess.

COMMUNITY FUND TO ASK FOR $420,097 FOR 17 CHARITIES

Campaign to Last From Dec. 1 to 10—Money to Be Used in Caring for Sick and Injured.

The Community Fund, in its campaign Dec. 1 to 10, will ask for $420,097 from St. Louis and St. Louis County, to apply on operating expenses of 17 organizations caring for the sick and injured and interested in the prevention of sickness and promotion of health, during 1924. The Budget Committee of the fund announced today.

Approval of the budgets of these 17 agencies brings the grand total the Community Fund will require during 1924 for 30 charities and philanthropies up to $874,674. The Budget Committee has approved, in the order enumerated, $25,123 in gifts for six agencies dealing with dependent, neglected and orphaned children, and $259,454 for seven organizations known as "family case-working agencies," and concerned principally with needy and homeless families and individuals.

There are 81 charities and philanthropies participating in the Community Fund campaign for 1924. By holding almost continual sessions, the Budget Committee, of which L. Wade Childress is chairman, hopes to complete the remaining 21 budgets by Tuesday afternoon. The goal of the campaign will be known then, after the committee has rendered a full report of its work to the Board of Trustees, in whose hands rests final approval of the budgets.

A Selling Event That Lowers The Price of Fine Quality Clothing

STARTING SATURDAY WE OFFER THE CHOICE OF 3 GREAT GROUPS SUPERBLY TAILORED SUITS AND OVERCOATS AT THE SENSATIONAL PRICES SHOWN BELOW—beautiful garments that must not be judged by the usually low prices we ask; for all are of pure woolen fabrics, styled to the minute, and tailored and finished in the most exacting manner. Continued mild weather—combined with the public's steadfast refusal to pay the exorbitant prices that are being generally asked for clothing—has found its result in the Eastern manufacturers becoming overstocked with their finest and highest-priced merchandise. This situation was ideal for our method of large-scale buying—and we have stocked up to the limit at savings of tremendous proportion. The astonishing results can be recognized by the extreme values in this mighty selling event. Come and see these wonderful values Saturday. We challenge comparison with any garments selling in St. Louis at fully 40% more than our prices. Here is an opportunity for any man or young man who realizes the advantage of cash buying, and who is ready to save by paying cash, to secure finer-quality clothing at incomparable prices.

MEN ACCUSED IN WHIPPING CASE SAY THEY HAVE ALIBIS

Arthur Hasty, Baseball Pitcher, Says His Indictment Was Due to Mistaken Identity.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 22.—Trial of the men under indictment for alleged whipping of Mrs. Bertha Holcombe, pitcher of the Atlanta Braves, said to have taken place.

22-year-old widow, and her escort, S. H. Morton, a salesman, is expected to be called next week at Marietta, the county seat of Cobb County, in which the affair is said to have taken place.

Keller Hasty, pitcher for the Philadelphia American League baseball club, and his brothers, Frank and Arthur Hasty, all under indictment, asserted they would be able to prove an alibi which would show conclusively that their indictment grew out of mistaken identity. Tom Black, employee of the Atlanta Gas Works, also under indictment, was quoted as declaring he would prove an alibi, while the other two accused men, P. C. Cook, an automobile mechanic residing in Smyrna, and Joe Bramlett, who lives near Smyrna, both denied any connection with the whipping.

FARM TROUBLES PARTLY DUE TO ELEVATOR RATES, SAY ROADS

Charges of 16 to 18 Cents a Bushel for Handling Corn in Kansas Alleged.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 22.—Railroad defendants in the hearing here on the plea of eight states for a reduction in freight rates on grain and hay, yesterday cited charges collected by Kansas elevators for handling grain. These, R. G. Merrick, Topeka, general freight agent for the Santa Fe Railroad, declared were many times what they should be.

Merrick quoted statistics which he said had been reported to the Interstate Commerce Commission, purporting to show that some had collected 16.56 to 18.56 cents a bushel as handling charges on corn. These figures were quoted to show that elevator charges, not freight rates, were largely responsible for the farmers' troubles.

Home Study Courses by Radio. NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Courses in home study by radio—an innovation which its promoters believe may revolutionize educational methods—are to be inaugurated by Columbia University next week. An experimental course on the poetry of Robert Browning will be broadcast next Monday night.

Bootlegging From Carpet Stores. NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Several of the 18 alleged associates of "Mannix" Kessler, so-called "bootleg king," on trial with him before Federal Judge Winslow on charges of wholesale bootlegging, engaged in the retail carpet business to facilitate their illegal operations, according to testimony yesterday.

A TREMENDOUS SALE

OF BOYS' FINE CLOTHING

STARTING SATURDAY

A big Eastern manufacturer of Boys' high-grade clothing—finding himself tremendously overstocked this late in the season—offered to sell his entire stock for cash at decided discounts. Ever watchful for such saving opportunities, we bought to the limit; and the entire assortment, consisting of thousands of fine garments for Fall and Winter wear, is now offered in our store at the same discounts that we obtained. Added to this wonderful stock are equally large assortments from our own matchless stock—and these, too, have been reduced at lower figures to make this event one of the biggest sales of Boys' Clothing we have ever attempted. Come tomorrow and see these sensational values. Judge each garment by its own merits, and not by the low price we ask. You'll agree that WEIL values cannot be duplicated.

BLUE LAW SHOWDOWN IN MAPLEWOOD SOUGHT

Petitions Being Circulated for Special Election on City Manager Plan.

Opponents of the Maplewood city administration, seeking a change in the present form of government there, today asserted the city is being made so "blue" that it is almost lifeless and that, figuratively speaking, the white ribbon of the W. C. T. U. is floating from the City Hall flagpole.

Supporters of the administration counter to the effect that associates in business and sympathizers of John Barleycorn are active in the assault on the municipal citadel.

Each side is confident the citizens are behind it and it alone. The showdown is scheduled to come next Wednesday at the weekly meeting of the City Council. Petitions are being circulated asking that a special election be called, so that Maplewood may vote confidence in the present form of government or vote it out of office in favor of a city manager.

The insurgents are led by Commissioner Theodore Weber, who with Mayor Eugene Burks and Commissioner Frank Kasper compose the City Council. Rumblings of rebellion which have been heard for months—the present administration came in last April—reached a crescendo last Wednesday when the City Council ordered padlocks on six "soft drink parlors" for one year because hard drinks were dispensed. Only two "drink parlors" remain open and their existence is threatened.

Other reforms which have aroused wrath, as well as praise, have been a reduction in the speed limit from 15 to 10 miles an hour and the closing of a public dance hall on Sundays. Regarding the dance hall Mayor Burks avers the dancers and the orchestra made the night hideous with strange sounds and that some of the fox trotters became "frenzied" via whisky flasks.

Owners of five padlocked saloons today filed suit at Clayton for a writ of prohibition against the closing, asserting it deprived them of property without due course of law. Circuit Judge McElhinney ordered the Maplewood officials to show cause Dec. 8 why the writ should not be granted. Plaintiffs are Herman Bartold, Henry Kraemer Jr., Ernest Strasser, Max O. Pfister and Sidney Steffe. The places were closed under the provisions of a city ordinance modeled after the State bone-dry law.

ALL DIRECTORS OF KRUPP PLANT RELEASED BY FRENCH

Freedom Is Result of Agreement for Re-opening of Mills in the Ruhr.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, Nov. 22.—All the directors of the Krupp plant, who were imprisoned last spring on charges of resistance to the French, growing out of the rioting at the plant on March 31, have been released, says a dispatch from Cologne.

The announcement from Cologne apparently represents another technical step in the freeing of the Krupp directors. The individuals affected are Baron Krupp von Bohlen and Directors Bruhn, Oesterlein and Hartwig. They were imprisoned after their conviction at Werder, May 8. They have been actually out of jail for nearly a month, having been paroled Oct. 21.

On Nov. 4 it was stated by German officials at Dusseldorf that the prison days of the Krupp directors were definitely over, although the document issued granting them their freedom technically described it as "postponement of punishment."

The release came about through negotiations with the French by the directors as a result of which an agreement was signed for the re-opening of the Krupp plants in the Ruhr. Baron Krupp von Bohlen was originally sentenced to 15 years in prison and a fine of 100,000,000 marks. Hartwig and Oesterlein to similar prison terms and fines and Bruhn to 18 years imprisonment and 100,000,000 marks fine.

Another Wounded—Men Were Hunting for Prisoner Who Escaped From Jail.

By the Associated Press.
BARBOURVILLE, Ky., Nov. 22.—Jailer Charles West and Deputy Sheriff Foster Messer were killed and Daniel Allen, a deputy, was seriously wounded when shot from ambush on Stinking Creek, Knox County, early today, according to reports reaching here from Flat Lick.

The officers had gone to Stinking Creek with a warrant for the arrest of Pete Baker, who had escaped jail here last week.

County Officer Pleads Guilty to Being Intoxicated.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., Nov. 22.—Sheriff William Brownning of Cape Girardeau County today paid a fine in Police Court of $50 on a plea of guilty to a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. Brownning, whose home is at Jackson, was arrested Monday after his automobile had collided with two other machines and traffic had been blocked.

$100,000 BONDS LOST IN U.S. MAILED FOUND IN CARPATIA

Assurance of Czechoslovakia to Bank Securities Leads to Recovery.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch. Prague, 1928, by the Press and the Post-Dispatch.

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Nov. 22.—One hundred thousand dollars worth of bonds lost on April 24, in the mails between Omaha and Prague have been recovered in the Carpathian Mountains at the foot of the Czechoslovakia.

The bonds, which were in the Stockyards Bank of Omaha, the Continental and Commercial Bank of Chicago, were traced to Czech frontier. Then the trail led to the Carpathians, where they were found in a package of bonds turned up, attached to a package bound from Omaha to Prague.

Young Kubecky detached them kept them three years before he came to convert them. The police have covered most of the loss.

Prague police seized the first of the bonds when a postman, J. Legner, tried to bank them. Legner, when arrested, declared he got them from his brother-in-law, Vlastek, of Prague. The police covered that Kubecky's son worked on the frontier finances.

100,000 BONDS LOST IN U. S. MAILED IN CARPATHIANS

Exchange of Czechoslovakia Peasants to Bank Securities Leads to Recovery.

Cable to the Post-Dispatch, Prague, 1929, by the Press and Pulitzer Prize-winning author, the New York World and the Post-Dispatch, Nov. 11.—One hundred thousand dollars' worth of bonds lost on April 24, 1929, in the mails between Omaha and Chicago have been recovered in the Carpathian Mountains at the far end of Czechoslovakia.

The bonds, which were mailed by the Stockyards Bank of Omaha to the Continental and Commercial Bank of Chicago, were traced to the Czech frontier. Then the trail disappeared in the Carpathians, more famous for cypress love songs and comely peasant girls than for Liberty Bonds.

Prague police seized the first $5,000 of the bonds when a peasant, Joseph Legner, tried to bank them. Legner, when arrested, declared he got them from his brother-in-law, Vlastislav Kubecky, of Prague. The police discovered that Kubecky's son had worked on the frontier finance control force. The package of bonds had turned up attached to a package bound from Omaha to Prague. Young Kubecky detached them and kept them three years before he tried to convert them. The police have recovered most of the lot.

Big!

A million magic Bubbles for a new-fashioned washday

News for next washday

Chipso is here!

To banish the molling dreariness of the old-fashioned washday—

To save precious hours—

To keep white clothes white, and colored clothes fresh—

To do all these things without adding a penny to the washing cost!

This is what Chipso's arrival means. Chipso is new, but it is not an experiment.

Chipso has been proved by every laundry test known to American women and to us.

25 Seconds from Package to Suds

Your first trial of Chipso will be an adventure!

If you have been wasting precious minutes in chipping, shaving, and melting soap, Chipso's 25-second leap from its big blue-and-orange package to deep, fleecy suds will seem like magic to you.

If you have been using powders or laundry chips that made you sneeze, Chipso's clean, powderless whiteness will give you a new conception of convenience without discomfort.

If you have been using old-fashioned cake-soap and are troubled with gray-white washing results and fading of colors, Chipso's fine white results as well as its safety and kindness will kindle your quick enthusiasm.

It makes no difference what washing method you use—boiling, soaking, machine—Chipso is ready to help you. And Chipso and water are all you need.

Chipso is here. Because you get so much for so little money, all Chipso's added advantages and superiorities are actually FREE.

Every good grocer now sells

Chipso in two big sizes.

When Chipso comes into your home, your old-fashioned washday will be only a memory.

And the finer the Great Coat the higher the social standing of its possessor, none of those ancient gentlemen could have as worthy a garment as the gentlemen of today may possess. Weavers had not then achieved the perfection of the French-made Montagnac overcoating—very thick, yet light; fleecy soft, gloriously warm. In truth there is none beyond an overcoat of French Montagnac hand tailored.

RED CROSS TO JOIN COMMUNITY FUND

Annual Christmas Roll Call to Be Abandoned This Year.

Abandonment of its annual Christmas roll call for fund subscribers in favor of participation in the Community Fund campaign, was announced yesterday in the annual report of the year's activities of the St. Louis Chapter of the American Red Cross, by John L. Mauran, chairman. A considerable sentiment against abandoning the roll call, which has become a fixed community custom particularly since the World War, was overcome. Chairman Mauran reported, by the compelling conclusion that the well deserved esteem in which the Community Fund is held makes it "the one logical piece of machinery for the economical collection of funds for divers worthy purposes."

Assistance to Veterans.
The chief item in Mauran's detailed report of activities was the assistance extended to war veterans in 15,551 cases. The Home Service Section alone gave financial aid to 512 veterans and their families; aided 384 men to receive compensation claims; assisted 1958 others in obtaining other governmental benefits; drew 1722 affidavits for them; assisted 1955 men with their family problems; extended miscellaneous service, such as assistance on bonus claims, to 6197 men; sent staff workers on 2162 calls, and received 12,518 visits from veterans at the office. Mauran emphasized that while the number of ex-service men requiring aid from the Red Cross decreased during the year, the volume of the work has not lessened. This was attributed to the increase in the number of mentally disabled and tubercular cases, which require complex skilled and sympathetic service.

Other Activities.
There are approximately 260 ex-service men in Government, municipal and private St. Louis hospitals, the report said. Of these, 210 are in the United States Veterans' Hospital at Jefferson Barracks. Here the Red Cross supplements the Government treatment, providing recreation, advice, care of personal affairs and assistance in prosecuting compensation claims or unsatisfactory awards.

Other activities of the Home Service Section included the operation of 13 milk stations, at which 397,312 half-pint bottles of milk were sold at cost or given away to school children; first aid instruction to 59 persons; 21,556 dental treatments at the dental clinic maintained by the chapter at Central High School, Tausig Open Air School and Peabody School.

Should a disaster visit St. Louis the chapter would be prepared to set up a 100-bed emergency hospital for immediate use, the report stated. Equipment is maintained at Washington University Medical School and a list of physicians, nurses and lay personnel, subject to emergency call, is kept at chapter headquarters. St. Louis' response to the call for help in the Japanese earthquake disaster was pointed to with pride. The city was assigned a quota of $65,000 and raised $120,428.73.

Directors elected were D. R. Calhoun, D. K. Catlin, Brockbridge Jones, N. A. McMillan, George Markham, G. V. R. Mechin, H. J. Pettin-gill, A. L. Shapleigh, Mrs. Joseph W. Bray, F. O. Watts, Rella Wells, Mrs. L. H. Cobb, Mrs. Sidney Schwan, Mrs. Max Kotary, Mrs. H. G. Mudd, Mrs. Eugene J. Senseney, Miss L. R. Ernst, Thomas G. Rutledge, Bishop Frederick F. Johnson and Alfred J. ## BOMB EXPERTS BAFFLED BY TOLEDO EXPLOSIONS

Work Apparently That of Maniac—Investigators Unable to Find Clue in Nine Cases.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
TOLEDO, O., Nov. 22.—Federal bomb experts have been ordered to join in the search for Toledo's bomb terrorist.
New York and Chicago bomb squads also have been called to the scene of recent bomb explosions here in an effort to determine the material used in the bombs.
Investigators never have found any trace of containers of the explosives and have been baffled as to what type of bomb has been used by the maniac who has planted nine explosives in two months and 10 since spring. Puses, percussion caps and time arrangements apparently have been used in different bombs.
The tenth blast occurred Wednesday night in the home of C. S. Yant on Wall street, which was the scene of another explosion seven months ago.

If the mysterious bomber's hope is to snuff out lives, his plan never has been successful. Only property has been destroyed by the blasts. The complete list of the bomber's escapades to date follows:
April 20—Home of Charles S. Yant, 909 Wall street, damaged by an artillery shell placed on a window sill, the explosion of which broke windows in the house.
September 17—Rear of automobile belonging to Miss Katherine Finucan, 210 Rockingham street, wrecked by explosion while automobile was parked in front of 2358 Richardson drive.
September 17—Fifteen minutes after blast occurred Wednesday, took place in street at Parkwood and Detroit avenues.
September 24—Bomb exploded on roof of home of Paul Baird, 2129 Englewood drive.
September 25—Home of H. W. Hollinger, 1920 Upton avenue, damaged by explosion.

September 28—Bomb tore hole in roof of Charles Apartments, 2217 Franklin avenue, occupied by Mrs. Charles Olson and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rickert.
October 28—Bomb exploded on sidewalk at home of William McFarland, 1120 Paction street.
November 5—Bomb shattered mail box, Grand and Forest avenues, 8:30 p. m. Explosion shattered windows in homes for several blocks in vicinity.
November 18—Hole torn in platform and floor of Norwood Avenue Church of Christ by bomb.

November 21—Heavy charge exploded in window of the home of C. A. Yant, 909 Wall street. Mr. and Mrs. Yant and Mrs. Phoebe McMaster escaped injury by running from the house when Yant smelled smoke from the bomb fuse.
The Yants and Mrs. McMaster, a visitor, were sitting in the front room of the house when Yant smelled smoke. He glanced around the room and at the window at the rear, saw the light of a burning fuse, and dense smoke coming in the window. He shouted to the women, "let's get out of here; they're going to blow us up," and rushed them out of the front door into the street. A moment later the bomb exploded, wrecking the room.

Junior C. of C. Nomination.
The Junior Chamber of Commerce has announced the nomination of the following men for officers in 1934: Andrew G. Mungenast, president; Theodore W. Fleming, first vice president; Ray G. Mills and Walter Rhein, for second vice president; Len A. Maune and Norman E. Dewes, third vice president; and Herbert H. Rhein, treasurer. The election will take place during the first week of December.

SECOND OFFENDERS IN LIQUOR CASES WARNED BY DYER

Demonstrates "No Leniency" Threat By Sentencing Man to Six Months in Jail.

Second offenders of liquor law violations cannot expect leniency from him, Federal Judge Dyer announced from the bench yesterday. He demonstrated by sentencing John Pour to six months in the Warrenton, Mo., jail and fining him $100 when he pleaded guilty on three counts. For the possession of utensils fit for the manufacture of liquor, Judge Dyer gave him six months; for the manufacture of liquor, three months to run concurrently, and for the possession of liquor, the $100 fine.

Special Assistant Attorney-General Dyer called Judge Dyer's attention to the fact that Pour had been fined $250 by Judge Dyer on a previous occasion.
"Defendants in liquor cases cannot expect to come before me charged with a second offense and get any leniency," the Judge remarked.

SOFT COAL MINES IN MIDDLE WEST CLOSING

Already 100 of 300 in Illinois Have Shut Down—Others Curtail Production.

Bituminous coal mines in Illinois, Indiana and elsewhere in the union fields are closing down rapidly, due to a combination of difficulties, operators and coal men here said today. Nearly 100 of the 300 mines in Illinois have shut down, while most of the remainder are working at only about one-fifth capacity. It was declared. This means that around 25,000 men are out of employment entirely and that the other 60,000 Illinois miners are drawing small pay checks. In the smaller Indiana field, about 70 mines have ceased production.

Loss of business through under-selling by the nonunion mines in the Kentucky and West Virginia fields is given as the chief reason for the shutdowns. Other reasons are the change from coal to oil as fuel by many industries, the merger of numerous public utilities with consolidation of production plants, and the continuance of mild weather.

Overhead Eats Up Profit.
It was pointed out that Southern Illinois operators were selling their six-inch lump around $4.35 a ton and their screenings at $1.40, with an average selling cost for the entire volume of about $2.85 a ton. It costs about $2.50 a ton to produce the coal when mines are running full time, it was said. The increasing overhead from part-time production has run the cost up to $2.75, $5 and in some cases $3.25.

Kentucky nonunion coal, even with freight added, can be laid down in St. Louis or Chicago for less than the cost of the Illinois mine product. This condition, the operators say, is due entirely to the high wage scale of the union miners.

Demand for Wage Cut Likely.
The present agreement between miners and operators will expire next March, and it is understood the mine owners will ask for a wage reduction in the new agreement. The miners, however, are expected to insist on at least retention of the present scale and possibly an increase.

The prediction was made last week at Atlantic City by A. L. Sneed, Assistant United States Post Administrator, that next spring would see the worst bituminous coal strike in the history of the country. Operators and coal men here today said they hoped to reach an agreement, although one said a "strike is expected."

"The cost of coal is too high," another declared, "and the miners will have to come to realize it."

Another point of difference expected to develop is use of the check-off system. Both operators and miners are deeply interested in the national versus the district plan to cover agreements, but the miners themselves are not entirely agreed as to which method they prefer.

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles. Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested food? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain. Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. Live and live.

Girl Overjoyed at Life Sentence.
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—A life sentence meted out yesterday by Judge Harry E. Lewis was accepted with delight. He was about to sentence Marie Du Bois, arrested with three robbers, to a year in the penitentiary when her fiancé, Edward Pavlak, asked that she be placed on probation. The Judge paroled the prisoner on condition that Pavlak marry her and stand good for her behavior. Both accepted the terms.

Calumet Baking Powder is called "Best by Test" because actual baking tests are made right in the big Calumet factories—the largest of their kind on earth. Master bakers and a renowned domestic science expert make these tests which protect the quality and uniformity of Calumet.

Calumet is called "the World's Greatest Baking Powder" because it is used by more housewives—more chefs—more railroads—more restaurants—more hotels than any other brand.

Calumet is called the "Economy Baking Powder" because no other brand on the market will produce bakings at such a low cost. Its dependable and unfailing action means no loss of time, money or materials.

Calumet is called for in thousands of stores daily because a better leavener cannot—and is not made—because a large can contains full 16 ounces and some brands come in 12 ounce cans—once tried it is always used.

BARGAINED WITH THUGS TO RECOVER LOOT

Woman's Successful Suit for $2600 Insurance Reveals Her Plea to Robbers.

An unusual burglary in which the victim bargained with the burglars for the resale to her of her own property, was disclosed in the suit of Mrs. Della Unger Park against the Fidelity and Casualty Co. of New York, which resulted in a $2600 verdict for Mrs. Park in Circuit Judge Frey's court yesterday.

At the time of the burglary, Dec. 10, 1932, Mrs. Park, who then was Mrs. Unger, a widow, returned home at 11 p. m. with her fiancé, Park, from a theater and found three men in the house. The dining-room window had been "jimmied" and the telephone and hall light on the first floor had been disconnected.

Mrs. Unger and Park were covered with revolvers and Mrs. Unger was forced to surrender her jewelry and fur coat to the robbers. In response to their demands for her "jack," she told the robbers she had only a small amount of change in the house, as she had deposited most of her money in bank the day before.

"What are you going to do with my jewelry and coat?" she asked the robbers as they were about to depart. "We're going to sell them," was the reply.

Bargains for Clothes. "Sell them to me, then," she said. "I will probably give you more than you can get from anyone else."

"Give us $200 and you can have it," said one of the robbers. "I'll give you $200," she said.

"Thought you didn't have any money in the house," the robber sneered. "I haven't," she said, "but I will give you a check."

"Oh, no, you won't," laughed the robber. "We want the cash. Do you know So-and-so (naming a Wellston saloonkeeper)?"

Mrs. Unger replied that she knew the man by reputation and was told by the robber that if she would deposit the $200 with him she would get her property back the next morning, providing she did not report the burglary to the police.

Got in Touch With Saloonkeeper. "After the robbers had gone," Mrs. Unger testified, "I got in touch with the saloonkeeper. He told me that the robbers evidently were only fooling me, but advised me to wait until the following day to see if they would keep their word."

Continuing her testimony, Mrs. Unger-Park related that she waited until about 10 a. m. the next day and when she learned the robbers had not left her property at the saloon she notified the police of the robbery.

The insurance company resisted the claim for burglary insurance on the ground that the application for the policy did not state that Mrs. Unger was a millwife. Counsel for the company argued that if the company had known her profession, a different form of policy would have been issued. She carried what is known as residence theft insurance and the company contended that her residence also was her place of business and should have been classified as such in the application.

However, counsel for the plaintiff pointed out that her profession was known to the representatives of the insurance company when the policy was issued, and that she had nothing to do with the writing of the application, which was performed in the office of the company's local agent.

The policy was for $2000. Mrs. Unger-Park estimated the value of the property stolen at $2500. The jury's verdict included a fee for the plaintiff's attorney and assessed an additional penalty of 10 per cent of the amount of the policy for vexatious delay.

FARMERS' LEGISLATIVE POLICY
Urge Public Ownership of Railroads and Higher Wheat Tariff.

By the Associated Press.
OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 23.—Public ownership of transportation systems repeat or "very substantial amendment" of the Each-Cummins act; "reasonable" reduction of freight rates on farm products; separation of intermediate credit banks from the Federal Farm Loan System and the Federal Reserve System, and the privilege of issuing legal tender notes against warehouse receipts showing ownership of staple farm commodities are among measures advocated in the legislative program adopted by the National Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union yesterday.

The delegates also urged an increase to 50 cents a bushel of the tariff on wheat. Deep waterways through the Mississippi and St. Lawrence rivers were urged in resolutions.

The policy was for $2000. Mrs. Unger-Park estimated the value of the property stolen at $2500. The jury's verdict included a fee for the plaintiff's attorney and assessed an additional penalty of 10 per cent of the amount of the policy for vexatious delay.

My Dear Dr. Coe: With gratitude I write to tell you that you cured me of an awful and painful case of Piles. You did not use any knife. I did not go to a hospital. All your treatments were given in your office and they were mild and gentle. I was a very sick man—had taken home from my position in a taxicab, but under your treatment soon went back to work.

I advise all sufferers from Piles and other rectal troubles to take your treatment at once. They will never regret it. Sincerely your friend,

PLAN COMMISSION TO OFFER ZONING ORDINANCE TODAY

Temporary Measures Will Be Submitted to Board of Aldermen to Supplant Act Declared Invalid.

WOULD PERPETUATE THE CITY'S IDEA

Propose to Make Provision for Compensating the Property Owners for Any Damages.

The City Plan Commission today voted to have temporary zoning ordinances introduced in the Board of Aldermen at the board meeting late this afternoon, as an emergency measure to supplant the model zoning law that was knocked out by the Supreme Court of Missouri, and to perpetuate the city's idea of preserving the character of its various districts.

Members of the commission prepared to appear before the board and urge that the temporary bills be considered in special meetings early next week. Mayor Kiel appeared before the commission and approved its plan, suggesting that the Aldermen might meet next Tuesday and Wednesday for second and final readings of the bills, thus leaving tomorrow, Sunday and Monday for consideration.

The reason for haste is that the present zoning law will become inoperative when the Supreme Court mandate is received here, and it is expected to arrive by tomorrow. Thereafter, it is feared, persons desirous of erecting buildings that would have been in violation of the old law will rush in for permits. The commission proposes later to submit carefully thought out ordinances to take the place of the temporary ones now offered.

The temporary ordinances would include provisions for compensating property owners for any damage to the value of their property wrought by the zoning system. Lack of such a provision in the old law was the basis of the Supreme Court action. The scheme of compensation would be similar to that for street openings or widenings, with a special commission to lay out benefit districts and prorate payment of damages among owners therein. This would be in conformity with the existing State Constitution, as the proposed new Constitution cannot be anticipated.

Two ordinances are proposed, one covering use of property, subject to existing use or consent of a large majority of adjoining property owners, and the other regulating height of buildings under the same limits as in the old law. Regulations as to area would not be attempted temporarily.

WANDERED IN FOREST UNTIL HE BECAME NEARLY A SKELETON

By the Associated Press.
ALGOMA, Ont., Nov. 23.—Woodsmen on one of the rarest expeditions out of the wilderness in quest of supplies brought to Algoma today the story of a man who lies in a log hut out near Michipicoten, fighting for life under crude ministrations of lumberjacks, after having wandered in the wilds, lost, starved and frozen for 21 days.

The man, nearly a skeleton covered by tattered rags and walking on bleeding feet, was picked up by two prospectors, one day last week and carried into camp. When his mind cleared, he told them he was Merrill Faro of Montreal and recounted a series of experiences which caused his rescuers to wonder that he still lived.

Four weeks ago Faro started out from a camp deep in the timber to fell trees for pulpwood. At dusk on his way back to camp he lost the trail. On Oct. 26 fellow lumberjacks organized searching parties. They Chew a few. Stomach fine. So pleasant, so inexpensive, so quick to settle an upset stomach. The moment "Pape's Diapepsin" reaches the stomach all pain and distress from indigestion or a sour, gassy stomach vanishes. Millions know its magic. All druggists recommend this harmless stomach corrector.

thought he was headed along Lake Huron to Saint Ste Marie but he failed to appear there. All this while Faro was wandering over hundreds of miles hemmed in by mountains, baffled by lakes, rivers and swamps. He had neither compass, matches nor gun. He was reduced from a lusty man of 180 pounds to almost a skeleton. He gnawed at vines, leaves and shrubs. Once he caught a partridge with his hands. He was more dead than alive when the prospectors stumbled upon him only a few miles from the camp which reported him missing.

Deposit for Closed Bank Charge.
By the Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Nov. 23.—Anton Richter, Deputy United States Marshal, arrested C. W. Rogers, representative of an automobile tire company here, on a warrant charging him with accepting $12,500 for the First National Bank at Fitcher, Ok., knowing that the bank was in a failing condition. Rogers was cashier of the bank at the time. The warrant upon which he was arrested is dated July 14, 1923, and charges that Rogers accepted the $12,500 for the bank in May, 1922, long after the bank was closed. Rogers said he was cashier of the bank until about Aug. 1, 1921, he resigned. He said the bank audited his books, finding them in good shape, and it was three months after the nation that the bank failed.

BURKS' SALARY SAID TO BE LESS THAN $10,000

Chairman of Governing Body of Bureau of Municipal Research Answers Rumors as to Pay of Director

City Hall officials need not worry over exorbitant salaries in the Bureau of Municipal Research. They do not exist, says Paul Bakewell Jr., chairman of the bureau's governing committee.

Bakewell was told of the belief, prevailing at the City Hall, that the salary of Jesse D. Burks, director of the bureau, is $25,000 a year, or more than the combined salaries of the Mayor, Comptroller and President of the Board of Aldermen. The three officials named compose the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, which governs expenditure of city funds.

"I wish to say positively," Bakewell said in reply, "that no person connected with the Bureau of Municipal Research receives a salary as large as that of the Mayor alone."

Statement of Acting Director. C. W. Atkins, in charge of the bureau's office in Director Burks' absence, said the same thing in a different way, when he remarked:

"I am familiar with the budgets of the directors of bureaus of this character in other cities, and I know that the highest salary paid to the director of such a bureau in any city is $10,000 a year."

The bureau occupies a modest and plainly furnished office suite on the twelfth and topmost floor of the Fullerton Building. Two stenographers are employed. "A staff of engineers, accountants and analysts" is also employed, according to the bureau's literature.

Director Burks has been in Washington several days. The bureau's annual report, just made public, charges, as has been told, that there is an available waste of city funds to the extent of $2,000,000 to $4,000,000 a year. Some features of the report have aroused a feeling of antagonism in some City Hall offices, and have brought out comments on the supposed high salary of the director. The impression also seems to prevail at the City Hall that the bureau is antagonistic to labor unions.

Opposition to Unions Denied. Director Burks, in a statement which goes with the annual report, says as to the latter charge:

"The bureau is not opposed to labor organizations, as has several times been charged. It is against waste and inefficiency in the city government, wherever found."

Bakewell said, as to the same point, that the bureau receives the support of a number of business bodies, including the Clearing House banks, the Associated Retailers and the Real Estate Exchange, and that it was not opposed to labor unions.

Atkins said the bureau's investigations had been made without regard to any interest that any particular contributor to its funds might have in labor, business or political questions.

In the matter of the city power plants, which is cited by the bureau's critics as showing a bias against union labor, the bureau suggested that the work be done by a smaller number of employees, but did not suggest any reduction in wages.

Porto Rican Delegates May Be Expelled.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Reports from San Juan indicate that the two delegates who will represent Porto Rico in the Republican national convention next year will not be instructed for President Coolidge. The Republican leaders in Porto Rico are now actively agitating the question of statehood for the island. They have not succeeded in arousing any considerable enthusiasm among administration officials and Republican leaders in Congress and they are displeased.

3 OFFICIALS HELD IN LAW AND ORDER FIGHT AT PIEDMONT

Mayor, an Alderman and the Night Marshal Arrested in Controversy Which Began in April.

CULMINATION OF SERIES OF EVENTS

Other Features of Row the Wrecking With Explosives of Missouri Town's Main Store and Office Building.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
PIEDMONT, Mo., Nov. 23.—A fight between citizens representing the law and order element of this town, in Wayne County, 129 miles south of St. Louis, and a group of politicians, bootleggers and gamblers, which began last April, culminated last night in the arrest of the Mayor, an Alderman and the Night Marshal incidentally two former St. Louis druggists are under arrest.

So far, the outstanding features of the fight have been the wrecking of two of the town's principal store and office buildings with explosives; the disappearance of the cashier of the Bank of Patterson, nearby, and the subsequent disclosure of defalcations totaling between $10,000 and $17, 000; the stabling of a private detective and the Night Marshal of Piedmont; the alleged transportation of liquor from St. Louis, and the charge that a surety bond given by the guardian of the $10,000 estate of an insane soldier was forged.

Charge Against the Mayor.
The charge on which Mayor W. E.
Hamacher and Alderman Roy Thomas were arrested last night is that as president and stockholder, respectively, of the local fight company, they entered into an illegal contract with the city.

Night Marshal Clarence Carpenter was charged with carrying a concealed weapon on the theory that he was acting only under a temporary appointment and had no authority to carry a revolver.

The fight began soon after the election of Mayor Hamacher and his ticket last April on a platform in which they promised to clear the town of bootleggers and gamblers.
James T. Hixon, who was elected City Marshal on the "clean up" ticket, resigned shortly after, and Martin Gill and Clarence Carpenter were appointed temporarily to enforce the ordinances. Gill was made deputy marshal and Carpenter was appointed to serve at night.

The Mayor appointed Albion O.
Daniel, who formerly had defended many cases of persons charged with law violation, as City Attorney. It was Daniel who last night caused the arrest of Mayor Hamacher, Alderman Thomas and Night Marshal Carpenter.

Details of the Explosions.
On the night of Oct. 5 the town was awakened by two loud explosions. Citizens ran to the business section and found that two stores and office buildings had been wrecked. The fronts of the buildings were blown out and the contents of the stores and flats were ruined.

Charles Espy of the Burns Detective Agency was sent to investigate.
A few days later he and Night Marshal Carpenter arrested Arthur Huff and while they were escorting him to jail he stabbed them. Espy now is in a serious condition at St. Luke's Hospital in St. Louis.

Then came the disappearance of Clay T. Kinder, cashier of the Bank of Patterson. He was last seen Nov.
14. The State Banking Department took charge of the bank and examiners for the State Finance Commissioner have reported discrepancies of between $12,000 and $17,000 in the bank's books.

The day of Cashier Kinder's disappearance Elmer Black, a town druggist, cashed two checks drawn by Kinder, each for $300. The checks were declared worthless when they were sent to the Bank of Patterson. Black later was found to have possession of an automobile formerly owned by Kinder. He said he had purchased it from Kinder, whom he claimed to have met in St.

City Attorney Under Bond.

Further investigation of Kinder's departure from Patterson led to the arrest of Black and City Attorney Daniel of Piedmont. It was said that both Daniel and Black had been seen in Kinder's company after the latter had left Patterson. Daniel gave bond.

Day before yesterday a telephone message from Piedmont to St.
Louis was intercepted. The message was to George Grix, who formerly conducted a drug store at 4554
Easton avenue. He was asked to "bring something" to Piedmont.

en to the jail at Greenville, where Black also is held.
Grix was taken from the jail at Greenville at noon today and sent to the jail at Poplar Bluff, on orders of Sheriff Wilcox, following circulation of rumors here that an effort might be made by friends of Grix here to release him without consent of authorities. Sheriff Wilcox said facilities for keeping prisoners are better at Poplar Bluff than at Greenville.

The white liquid found in the Grix bag is to be analyzed. Grix made no statement concerning the contents of his bag.
Statement of Mayor.
Mayor Hamacher and Alderman Thomas charge that their arrest last night were in retaliation for their activities against the gamblers and bootleggers. They furnished $1000 bonds at midnight to appear for preliminary hearing Dec. 8.

The charge growing out of the guardianship bond in the soldier's estate was made after the Probate Court had appointed a local politician as guardian for a former soldier of Piedmont, now in an insane asylum. The Court was not satisfied with the guardian's accounting of the estate and the guardian's surety bond then became a matter of investigation. The bond was issued by a surety company for which City Attorney Daniel is local agent. It bears what purports to be the signature of Daniel and is countersigned by O. L. Munger, one of the town's leading citizens. Daniel has repudiated the signature and says the bond was issued when he was away from Piedmont. The guardian has left Piedmont and is being sought.

HIGH SINGLE GAME.

F. Schmidt ..... 206

Today is another open date in the schedule of the Middle West Bowling Tournament. However, it is merely a breathing spell before the big day set for tomorrow when one squad of St. Louis bowlers will roll their dummies and singles events followed by three squads of visiting teams in the five-man event.

The first of the better known Chicago teams are scheduled for tomorrow night when 16 teams from that city will compete. Among these teams are the Commodore Hartry, the Thomas and the Brooks, of which Jimmy Blouin and Phil Wolff are members.

Yesterday's bowling was featured by the rolling of O. Whitehead and C. Schmidt of this city in the singles event. Whitehead took second place with a total of 675 and Schmidt went into third place with 667. Both bowlers had an excellent opportunity for first position, missed a pin and had to be content with the third rank. C. M. Smith of Chicago, who hung up a 686 total last Sunday, holds first place.

With so many of the good Chicago bowlers here over Saturday and Sunday it is expected that some special matches with local men and teams may be in order. In fact one local enthusiast remarked last night that members of his team would be glad to see any Chicago bowlers in a team, doubles or singles match.

CONCORDIA INVITES VALE BASKET TEAM TO PLAY IN ST. LOUIS

An invitation has been extended by athletic authorities of Concordia Seminary to Yale basketball team to play in St. Louis next January. The Yale team will tour several Middle Western cities at that time. One game will be played in Chicago. Concordia basketball teams have been consistent winners in the local field and under the direction of Coach Paddy Fitzgerald have become recognized as equal to the best in the Missouri Valley. The game, if arranged, will be played at the Coliseum.

Colt That St. Louisans Sold Unfoaled For $100, Won $70,000 This Year

WISE COUNSELLOR.

Wise Counsellor Netted $86,000 for T. C. Bradley, Who Bought 16-Year-Old Dam Rustle, Then in Foal, From Cella

Boys and Fred C. Meier.

By Joseph F. Holland.

T. C. Bradley of Louisville, Ky., resident manager of the Kentucky Jockey Club at Lexington, bought a 16-year-old mare in foal from the estate of the late Otto Stifel early in 1920 and thereby hangs the story of how Wise Counsellor, 2-year-old sensation of the turf, became the property of John S. Ward, instead of being owned by a group of St. Louis sportsmen which included Charles J. Cella, A. D. ("Tod") Cella and Fred C. Meier.

The foal of the aged mare, Rustle, was Wise Counsellor, already a favorite to win the Kentucky Derby next year. Upon that consideration of $100 paid for the mare, Bradley won $20,000 in Wise Counsellor's early races this year and then sold him for $66,000 to John S. Ward. Since Ward has owned the colt, it has added about $50,000 in additional stakes.

Little wonder that Meier and the Cella brothers look mournfully at each other every time they recall the regrettable transaction which resulted in the sale of a mare for $100 whose foal has thus far brought $126,000 into the coffers of the men who owned him.

Stifel Buys Half Interest. The late Louis Cella owned a string of race horses which included Menor, a stallion, by Blackstock, out of Mella, both owned by the father of M. P. Whitney. It also included Rustle, a mare, well along in years, with Russell as its sire, and Lady Louise, its dam. Fred Meier was in charge of Cella's breeding farm and at his death the horses were turned over to Meier for a nominal sum.

Meier placed the horses on a farm at Sullivan Mo. and later interested the late Otto Stifel in his project. Stifel prepared a half interest and Meier prepared to develop the farm. At the time of Stifel's death Rustle was in foal by Menor.

When it became apparent that Stifel's estate was not interested in the breeding farm, Meier decided to return to St. Louis to enter business and shipped his string of mares to Louisville to be sold at auction. Meier.

Milwaukee Team To Arrive Today

With no college football game in the city tomorrow, the Milwaukee St. Louis professional league game assumes a major role. The popularity enjoyed by Jimmy Conzelmann, managing director of the Milwaukee team, during his days as a Washington U. player and the creditable showing of the St. Louis team in its league games probably will serve to attract a crowd of several thousand fans to Sportsman's Park.

The Milwaukee team will arrive in St. Louis today.

The game will bring together several pairs of former teammates. Conzelmann will oppose his old partner Krause. Erickson, a Milwaukee back formerly played alongside of Siegfried on the Washington and Jefferson teams. Walter, the St. Louis tackle, faces a former Nebraska teammate in Menck. Pete Casey and Ben Winkelman played on the same team at Arkansas U.

Reiche, who plays a tackle position, is a former Illinois U. star and person an outfield position for the Boston Red Sox in the summer months.

Stronger Attack Expected to Win For Army Team

Navy Has No Backs to Compare With Wood and Smythe—Thrilling Battle Predicted.

By the Associated Press.
 NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The Army mule and the Navy goat resume belligerent relations tomorrow afternoon. At the Polo Grounds, flanked by middle brigades on the one hand and the cadet regiments on the other, the football eleven of Uncle Sam's service clash in their twenty-sixth engagement, and, as each has won 12 and tied one of the games to date, the battle will mean the leadership.

Football followers, knowing the confidence of the Middles and mind of the closely matched records of the contesting teams, expect the Polo Grounds contest to prove the most thrilling and closely fought in the long history of service gridiron relations.

Neither team comes to the game with a perfect record. The Army has fallen before Notre Dame and Yale and the Middles have bowed to Penn State and have been tied by Princeton. But each in the course of the season has disclosed itself as a powerful combination.

Army Veteran Team.
 The Cadet team has been installed a slight favorite. It is made up largely of veterans from the 1922 Middle combination and of the Middles, which defeated the Middles, whereas several new names are to be found in the eleven which will represent Annapolis. West Point's offensive record, which has totaled nearly twice the number of points of the Navy team, is another factor influencing the estimate.

In Wood and Smythe the Army boasts two backfield stars who have proved the superior of any of the Middle combination and Wood's punting and off-tackle work and Smythe's broken field efforts are expected to prove the features of the Army's play.

Stecher Easily Throws Koloff; Two Other Stars Fail to Wrestle

Londos Not Here for Match, While Wladek Zhyzsko Pleads Infected Knee—John Evko Displays Skill, Speed and Strength in Putting Down the Fat Charles Cutler.

By John E. Wray.
 Sports Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
 Another reason why the wrestling game is unable to get a foothold on public appreciation here developed at the Coliseum last night when two of the outstanding figures of a well-advertised card failed to go on the mat. One of them did not even put in an appearance in the city.

The absences were Wladek Zhyzsko, former world's champion and brother of the "grand old man," and James Londos, Greek champion, and one of the few wrestlers to win popularity in St. Louis. Zhyzsko pleaded an infected knee; Londos pleaded nothing, as he has not communicated with Promoter John Contos since last Sunday when he was supposed to be en route to this city from California.

The management, in addition to falling down on its program, failed to tip off the public to conditions which it must have known as early as Wednesday night, when Zhyzsko arrived in the city and explained his situation. The management waited until noon yesterday to announce that Zhyzsko would not go on and did not announce that Londos was not even in the city until time for the bout.

"The reason I did not explain earlier," Contos commented, "was that Londos was due today, and I expected him up to 6 o'clock last night. I also had expected to force Zhyzsko to compete, as I did not think his slight injury sufficient cause for calling off the match. I think he was afraid to take on Evko, when he found out Evko was a tough bird."

Stecher Plays With Koloff. Despite the altered program, Joe Stecher and Dan Koloff, the Bulgarian lion, gave an exhibition that pleased the crowd in the feature event. Stecher, working with that calm deliberation and immovable expression that characterizes him even under the most strenuous conditions, manipulated the tremendously powerful cave-man body of his foe for over an hour before he broke down the resistance and the caution of Daniel. Koloff took no chances with the former champion, despite the fact that he had an enormous physical advantage in torso and native strength. Stecher, still boyish in looking and with an upper body that appeared frail beside the hairy, Herculean trunk of his rival, took all the fire out of Dangerous Dan and had that burly person thinking of safety-first through the fight.

Stecher's first through the fight was against Stecher's obvious efforts to slip his legs under his body and clamp on the dread body scissors. At times Dan obtained formidable headlocks and toe holds on Stecher, who calmly manipulated and slipped out of them without seeming effort. Barked on the defense, Dan resorted to butting with his head and immediately after this time Gus hit the enemy into position. After 1 hour and 15 minutes, Joe twisted those long limbs around Dan for his first body scissors, but it was not on perfectly and the mighty Dan heaved loose. Twice more Joe tried to establish a solid leg grip and finally, after 1 hour and 20 minutes, he obtained an arm-lock with his body scissors and made Daniel quickly roll over and play dead.

Evko Good, Cutler Fat.

John Evko pleased the 2000 persons present by his quick defeat of "Jelly-Roll" Cutler, veteran trial horse. Cutler shook like a tub of gelatin, from the moment he was under full-length wrestling regalia. Cutler was so grossly out of shape he could not do much more than give Evko a chance to show that he was a promising bit of timber. Despite Evko's 215 pounds, there was not a superfluous ounce on him. With it all, he is active as a cougar and strong as a bear. He knows the wrestling game and perhaps it was discretion, rather than a knee-infection, that induced Wladek Zhyzsko to defer their meeting to another occasion when he was better prepared. A match between Evko and Stecher.

Breadon Denies Another Hornsby Trade Rumor

$100,000 and Numerous Players Reported Accepted by Cardinal Club.

A dispatch from Chicago today carries information that Breadon Ricker, manager of the Cardinals, will shortly announce that Hornsby has been traded to the Cubs for Charley Hollocher, Hack Miller, Marty Callaghan, Virgil Shivers, Willie Osborne and a solid consideration of $100,000.

Ricker is out of the city on a hunting trip, but Sam Breadon, president of the club, was here to appreciate the joke. "I cannot imagine how anyone would consider that such a deal would even mildly interest the Cardinals," Breadon said. "We have not talked with Chicago officials since President Bill Veeck was here some time ago and we saw at that time there was no possibility of a trade that would help us. I may add that there is nothing in New York that interests us. The rumors about the trade of Hornsby may just as well be officially buried right now."

It looks now as though Hornsby will be at second base for the season opens. That is the way I would prefer to have it. I believe these little differences will be ironed out. Hornsby is still incensed over what he terms the injustice of his suspension and fine at the close of the season, which cost him $1800. It is also rumored that Kid Gleson, former manager of the White Sox, will become a member of the Cub coaching staff, according to the same dispatch.

NEW ATTENDANCE MARK AT KANSAS-MISSOURI GAME IS PREDICTED

By the Associated Press.

LAWRENCE, Kan., Nov. 23.—With every available seat sold in the completed portion of the University of Kansas Athletic Stadium for the Kansas-Missouri football game on Thanksgiving day, a new attendance record appeared assured today for the annual clash. The game, which will be played at 2 o'clock, is expected to draw a crowd of 25,000. The game is expected to be a close one, with Kansas favored to win. The game is expected to be a close one, with Kansas favored to win. The game is expected to be a close one, with Kansas favored to win.

On the other hand, where so much time has been spent upon attack as on defense, the Crimson has been bound to suffer and in past years the Blue have shown some defects in their defensive line. Princeton's line attack made some considerable gains and it is a pity that her ward passing game was not characterized by sufficient deception to the Blue adequately in this respect. Harvard will supply such tactics, and may, as a result, if not by a touchdown, at least one or more field goals. The game, then, should see both eleven score with Yale having the drive and strategy to score more often than the Crimson.

Cadets Are Favorites.

In the Army-Navy game it was seen as though the cadets were to arrive. All season they have made the most of their possibilities, but the possibilities exist and show on Saturday. The Cadets should develop more power than the Middles, who, however, may prove faster and more wide awake. Everything into consideration the Army would seem to have better prospects of coming through a man such as Smythe, who has been deadly to the Navy.

Tomorrow's Football Schedule Abounds in Crucial Contests; Yale, Army, Illinois Favored

Harvard Defense Probably Will Be Stubborn and Crimson May Score Field Goal or Two—Big Ten Situation Promises Two Good Games.

(Copyright, 1923.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Crucial football struggles will abound on Saturday. Harvard and Yale will meet in the Stadium at Cambridge. Aside from its classic significance, this game will decide the Big Three championship and give Yale a chance to occupy a place directly in the national football sun.

Then, the Army and Navy will meet at the Polo Grounds in New York in a contest that annually has color and flavor of its own. In the Middle West Michigan and Minnesota, two unbeaten conference eleven, will play an important game and the Syracuse-Nebraska struggle at Lincoln will have a bearing upon the final rating not only of these two teams but of others.

In the South, Alabama and Georgia have the line, while Georgia Tech and Auburn rest against their Thanksgiving day contest.

Yale Picked to Win.
As to Yale and Harvard the Ells should win this game not only because their offensive weapons seem to be more varied, but because they are handled with great power. At the same time Yale men, who are looking for a one-sided victory, may be disappointed. The Harvard coaching system is well established and can be relied upon in this final struggle of the season to have made as much of the material in hand as could have been made.

This means, for one thing, that the defensive strength of the Crimson will not be mean and that Yale will at all times have to apply her last degree of power and the most subtle deception to gain. All the signs lead that Yale will gain, but it would not be surprising if such advances were not as frequent as some may think.

On the other hand, where so much has been spent upon attack—as obviously has been done at Yale—the defensive side of the game is bound to suffer and in past contests the Ells have shown some defects on the defensive side. Princeton with her line attack made some creditable matches and it is a pity that her forward passing game was not characterized by sufficient deception to test the line adequately in this respect. Harvard will supply such test undoubtedly and may, as a result, score by a touchdown, at least by the use of more field goals. The game, then, should see both eleven scoring with Yale having the drive and the strategy to score more often than the Crimson.

Cadets Are Favorites.
In the Army-Navy game it would seem as though the cadets were due to arrive. All season they have not made the most of their possibilities; but the possibilities exist and should show on Saturday. The Cadets should develop more power than the Midshipmen who, however, may well prove faster and more wide awake. Nothing everything into consideration the Army would seem to have the better prospects of coming through. A man such as Smythe, who has at times been deadly to the Navy, is a Former Nebraska U. Star, Now a Boxer, Undaunted by K. O.

W. H. "BIG" MUNN.

W. H. "BIG" MUNN, former tackle on the Nebraska University football team, weighs 251 pounds and is well over six feet tall. He was a "man-killer" on the football field and when he graduated thought that his huge bulk would earn a corresponding compensation in the prize ring. He trained religiously and last week at Sioux City, Ia., fought his first bout against Jack Clifford, a St. Paul heavyweight.

"Big" lasted two rounds—but he declares he has just begun to fight. He is doing some more training and, according to his manager, will look for no set-ups. The experience of W. H. recalls the fact that his brother, Monte, star center of the Nebraska eleven four years ago, also embarked on a fighting career. He fought Joe Stangl at Omaha. Joe wasn't much to marvel at, but he stopped Monte in two rounds and Monte stopped fighting.

her best men, Blott, center, and Uteritz, quarterback, while the strong Minnesota eleven has an especially brilliant backfield star in Martineau.

Chicago and Wisconsin should have a strenuous afternoon at Chicago. Both teams have been defeated, but both are fairly evenly matched. If Chicago gets going as she did last Saturday, she ought to win.

One of the big games of the week was to have been the Syracuse-Nebraska struggle at Lincoln, but some of the edge has been taken off of it by Syracuse's defeat last Saturday at the hands of Colgate. Still, it should be a fine contest.

Alabama and Georgia should have a good contest at Montgomery, and Carnegie and Notre Dame at Pittsburgh. There is not as much to choose as many people suppose between Carnegie and Notre Dame, but the odds slightly favor the latter.

KELLEY BUYS INTEREST IN MINNEAPOLIS CLUB

By the Associated Press.
ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 23.—Formal announcement that he had purchased a "substantial" interest in the Minneapolis Baseball Club of the American Association, was made here today by Michael J. Kelley, for several years manager of the St. Paul club of the same league.

The amount involved in the transaction was not made public. The purchase was made from the 26 stockholders of the Minneapolis club, several of whom will retain shares of stock.

For 15 years, Kelley had been with the Saints and he had won five pennants.

John W. Norton, president of the St. Paul club, said he had not been officially advised by Kelley of the transaction.

"I was of the opinion that Kelley and I had agreed on terms for him to manage St. Paul next year," said Mr. Norton.

Kelley will direct the Millers from the bench next season. It was understood that Joe Cantillon, veteran manager of the Millers, would be retained in some capacity, possibly as a scout, if he wished.

In a statement today Kelley expressed regret at leaving St. Paul.

CANNEFAX WINS TWO GAMES FROM MOORE

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Robert Cannefax, former national champion three-cushion billiard player, is making a consistent assault upon the National league leaders. He defeated Otto Reiser of Philadelphia in two games on Thursday and came back yesterday with a double victory over the New York representative, George Moore.

Cannefax won the afternoon match, 50 to 41, and the evening game, 50 to 37. His highest run was a 10, scored in the afternoon match.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 23.—Angie Kleckhefer of Chicago obtained an even break in two three-cushion league matches with Champion Tiff Denton here yesterday. Kleckhefer won the evening match, 50 to 34, after having dropped the afternoon game, 50 to 40.

Principia Faces Severe Test in Wesleyan Game

Local Academy Team, Undelected in Two Seasons, Meets College Eleven Tomorrow.

Principia Academy's football team, undefeated in two seasons, will face the strong Central Wesleyan College eleven at Francis Field tomorrow afternoon in a game which should be hard fought. It will be the third battle between the two teams. The 1921 game resulted in a tie while last year the Academy eleven scored a victory.

Central Wesleyan will outweigh Principia about seven pounds to the man. Coach Collard's team has made an excellent record this season. In six games to date the players have rolled up 121 points to 27 for opponents. Central's most important contests were against Central College of Fayette, Mo., and the Cape Girardeau Normals. Wesleyan held Central College to a 0 to 0 score while the Normals gained a 7 to 0 victory.

Principia has won seven of its eight games this year. Sordan High gained a 6 to 6 tie in the second contest on the schedule. Coach Marquard's most important local victory was that over Central High, the score being 25 to 7. On the basis of comparative scores against Marvin and Blackburn colleges and Missouri Military Academy the Central Wesleyan outfit appears one touch-down better than Principia.

The usual preparations are being made for the game. The 30-piece student band of Principia Academy, under the direction of Lieut. J. H. McClure, will render selections during the contest. The entire Principia student body will witness the battle as will a number of rooters from Warrenton, Mo., the home of Central Wesleyan. General admission will be 75 cents and box seats $1 each.

Fullback Stars in Two Games in Spite Of Fractured Rib

By the Associated Press.
HOBOKEN, N. J., Nov. 23.—FEAR that he would be removed from the line-up in two important football contests kept Howard O'Callaghan, regular fullback of the Stevens Institute team from going to surgeons until yesterday because of a pain in his chest.

The surgeons found that the pain which O'Callaghan endured since his team's contest with the warriors of the U. S. S. Colorado was a broken rib. With this defect he played with unusual ability in his team's contest with the Massachusetts Aggies and Southmore.

NEBRASKA READY FOR SYRACUSE INVASION; ONE REGULAR MISSING

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 23.—The Nebraska varsity football team yesterday tapered off its training for the invasion of the Syracuse University eleven which they are to meet tomorrow.

Coach Dawson has experienced hard work in fitting the Cornhusker warriors for the fray with Syracuse because of the disabilities incurred in the Ames contest last Saturday. The head of the Husker camp intimated today that Ogden, playing his first season in the varsity ranks, would probably fill the place of McGlasson, guard, who was injured in the Iowa State College game. Herb Dewitz, Nebraska halfback, was discharged from the hospital and may get into action against the Easterners. Dave Noble, of the Husker backfield, who has been nursing an injury sustained in the gridiron battle with Notre Dame, will be able to take his position in the lineup Saturday, it was said.

The Syracuse squad will outweigh the Cornhuskers both in the line and backfield.

The squad from the East is scheduled to arrive this morning.

Illinois U. Boxer Wins

URBANA, Ill., Nov. 23.—Stanley Darcy, University of Illinois welterweight, shaded Jimmy Gill of La Crosse, Wis., in a 10-round bout here last night. Gill took the first two rounds, but Darcy evened things up in the later sessions with his aggressiveness, according to newspaper men.

City-Wide Limit On Pro-Amateur Team Competition

Municipal Fives Must Drop Professionals When Playing Elsewhere.

Verne Lacy, president of the Western division of the Amateur Athletic Union, who returned yesterday from the national A. A. U. convention at Detroit, looks for a revival of athletics in St. Louis as a result of the new ruling permitting amateurs to compete against professionals in Municipal Athletic Association events without affecting their amateur standing.

The adoption of the rule was a signal victory for Lacy who has led a fight on the old rule for years. Under the old rule an amateur who competed in a municipal athletic event in which a professional also competed became a professional. Lacy pointed out the futility of trying to restrict the entry of professionals in open city events and finally won his point.

Lacy said he interpreted the rule to mean that amateurs could compete against professionals in city-wide events.

The resolution introduced said that no interplayground meets might be indulged in; but Lacy points out that a playground is only one part of the whole system of municipal athletics and that the Municipal Athletic Association may be considered one organization with the playgrounds as its component parts.

Professionals' Sphere Limited.
When victorious athletes or teams are to be sent to sectional and national A. A. U. championships, however, the professionals must be weeded out.

Thus, in the instance of a winning basketball team with three professional players in its lineup, it may play all through its Municipal schedule with the professional members of the team. But when it is selected to go to the national A. A. U. championships, it must disband the professionals and allow only the amateur members of its team to play.

If, in a municipal meet, a professional wins first place, he will receive the Municipal Association prize but the first amateur in the list would be sent to the sectional or national games. Thus, Lacy says, the amateurs lose nothing but gain by competition with professionals in that the field is broader.

CINCINNATI REDS SIGN ANOTHER CUBAN PITCHER

By the Associated Press.
CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 23.—Pedro Dibut, ranked with Adolfo Luque as Cuba's greatest pitcher, has been obtained for the Cincinnati Nationals, according to a special dispatch to the Cincinnati Times-Star from Havana, Cuba. Pope Conte, representing the Cincinnati club, came to terms with Dibut today, the dispatch stated.

Dibut is a sturdy right-hander, a little larger than Luque, Cincinnati's star pitcher last season, and is the sensation of Cuba's winter league.

HARRY RATCAN LIKELY TO PLAY FOR MILLERS AGAINST HOOVER TEAM

Changed lineups, with some of the obviously weak spots strengthened, will mark the resumption of the regular St. Louis Soccer League schedule at High School Field Sunday afternoon. The Hoovers will oppose the Ben Millers in the first game and the Scullins will face the Buicks in the second match.

Manager Harry Ratcan will probably take up his old position at center forward for the Ben Millers with a new man, Aage Laurson of Denmark, at inside left. With Al McHenry at outside right, Jimmy Dunn at inside right and Potee or Dolan at outside left, the Miller forward line will carry a real threat.

Manager Harry McCarthy of the Buicks is in the East on a business trip and it is expected that he will make an effort to sign up one or two star players. In a letter to his team captain, Ollie Fink, McCarthy reports that the Bethlehem Steel Co. team has indicated that it will open negotiations for the services of Goal-tender Harry Oellerman, who made such a remarkable showing in the final match of last year between the Scullins and Paterson clubs.

The Scullins-Gillespie third round cup game has been definitely set for Sunday, Dec. 2. On the morning of that day, the Ben Millers of the Municipal League will meet the Buicks in a third round game. Both games will be played at High School Field.

JUSTICE NOERPER, 79, DIES OF AUTO INJURIES

Carondelet Official for 40 Years Was Knocked Down by Machine Monday.

Christian Noerper, 79 years old, Justice of the Peace of Carondelet Township for 40 years, died today at his home, 261 Lemay Ferry road, of internal injuries suffered Monday morning, when knocked down by an automobile in front of his residence.

Witnesses said that Noerper stepped from behind an automobile parked at the side of the street directly in the path of another machine, which was traveling at a moderate rate of speed.

Constable William F. Knight of Carondelet township, said today that he did not have the name of the driver of the automobile, but understood the driver was an old friend of Noerper. He said the driver would appear at the coroner's inquest. Residents in the vicinity questioned today, said they did not know the name of the driver of the automobile.

Noerper formerly conducted a harness repair shop in front of his residence, but in recent years had been inactive in that business. He fell from a street car in Clayton three weeks ago, and while suffering no serious injuries, was affected by shock because of his age.

His widow, four sons and two daughters, survive.

SEEN AFTER DISAPPEARANCE

Tennesseean Not Dead, Despite "K. K. K." Note, His Wife Believes.

CAMDEN, Tenn., Nov. 22.—H. J. Olive, manager here for the Standard Oil Co., who disappeared from his office, Sunday, was seen in Paducah, Ky., Monday, Sheriff Flower said yesterday, after conferring with a Camden man who had returned from Paducah. Upon this information, Olive's wife joined the majority of citizens in the belief that her husband had not met with foul play, but had merely left town.

In Olive's office, after his disappearance had been discovered, was a note signed "K. K. K." and threatening Olive's life.

Thanksgiving "Dressing for He Men"

If you're dressed in a Bond quality tailored Overcoat, there's no question as to how you're going to look—for you will be dressed correctly in a coat any man can be proud to wear, and you will have the added satisfaction that you saved money. Our business has been tremendous and well it should be, for Bond's tailored clothes represent more real quality for less actual money than any other clothes sold in St. Louis—bar none.

They Come Direct To You From Bond's Own Tailor Plant

The difference between the average high priced clothes and Bond's tailored clothes is in the price—and not in the quality. By eliminating the middleman entirely we can and do sell you better clothes for less money.

Great big

"Taking Yourself Seriously" Called A Glib Expression

By SOPHIE IRENE LOER.

(Copyright, 1923.)

MANY times some one has very glibly said, "Don't take yourself so seriously." It seems to be a brilliant expression used on all occasions when you want to dissuade some one or you want to keep from doing something you'd rather not do or when you can't get some one out of a mood he is in.

I believe the expression is far fetched, somewhat of a fallacy. I don't know of anybody in the world who accomplished anything unless they took themselves seriously.

The person who takes himself lightly is regarded lightly and never gets away from it. He is usually the lightweight in the scheme of things.

What was doubtless meant in place of "don't take yourself seriously" is don't be conceited, or in other words, don't think that you have accomplished anything because there is so much to do in the world.

There are those who think that because they have been successful or have things worth while that they have conquered the universe and they are forever patting themselves on the back. They are the know-it-alls and are very smug in their satisfaction of themselves.

That kind of person is conceited and nothing more. He has been serious only for the period in which he has made his pile. But having done it he thinks he is to rule over all things. Usually such a type has money, but nothing more.

But the individual worth while is he who, having accomplished big things, still realizes he has done very little indeed. After all, when you look about you you can understand how much there is to do in the world and what an atom any one person is and what a drop in the bucket any one deed may be in the great whirl of the world. There is indeed little room left for conceit or magnified views of one's abilities.

However, what is vitally needed is confidence in the one's abilities that is yours—a feeling that you can do a thing and never being satisfied until you have proved to yourself that you have done it.

In such an endeavor you do take yourself seriously or you do not accomplish the thing you set out to do. Your most profound thoughts and your most important actions are directed by the seriousness with which you take yourself on that project.

Ah, yes, to take yourself seriously in performing the task that you are anxious to do—that is important. The bad thing to do is to be conceited rather than confident.

A FILM FABLE

By DON ALLEN

ONCE Upon a Time there was a Favorite Screen Actress who was the Idol of a Million or More Fans. For Picture after Picture these Worshippers at the Celestial Shrine were Content to Bask in the Angelic Smile. Relayed to them Via the Silver Screen.

In Fact, her Legion of Admirers, both Hims and Hers, would Walk Miles in order to be In at the Clinch when their Wonder Girl was held Tight in the Masterly Clasp of the Muscular Arms of the Popular Leading Man.

It Grew To Be So that Thousands of her Worshippers looked upon her as Perfect and Hotly Declared, if Occasion Demanded, that "She Was a Queen; and As Such, could Do No Wrong." In many of the Biggest Cinemas, they were forced to Install Rubber Box-Offices whenever one of Her Pictures was Advertised, because Her Great Popularity drew in so many Shill Plasters that it made the Office walls Bulge.

And Before Long the Girls of 65, as well as the Old Women of 14, were Wearing Their Hair after the Manner of Their Idol and Using the Kind of Perfumery the Advertisement Declared She used.

She Reached the Pinnacle Peak of Her Popularity when they named a Pullman Car, a Seven-Cent Cigar and a Race Horse after her.

A CONTINUED STORY

Gladys Wince, the Actress

Laurette et Cie., Regent street, London, W., England.

DEAR GINGER—I'm feeling better. As it's three months since I last wrote to you, no doubt you will say to yourself that I would be a poor, weak-minded creature if I wasn't. I suppose one ought to be able to get over anything in three months. Unfortunately, I'm afraid I haven't quite succeeded in doing that, but at least I have managed to get my troubles stored away in the cellar, and I'm not dragging them out and looking at them all the time. That's something, isn't it?

I ought to give you all my impressions of London, I suppose; but I've grown so used to the place that I don't think I have any now. I seem to have been here years and years.

You will see by the address that Mr. Faucitt has not yet sold his inheritance. He expects to do so very soon, he tells me—there is a rich-looking man with whiskers and a keen eye whom he is always lunching with, and I think big deals are in progress. Poor dear, he is crazy to get away into the country and settle down and grow ducks and things. London has disappointed him. It is not the place it used to be. Until quite lately, when he grew resigned, he used to wander about in a disconsolate sort of way, trying to locate the landmarks of his youth. (He has not been in England for nearly 20 years!) The trouble is, it seems, that about once in every 20 years a sort of craze for change comes over London, and they paint a shop front red instead of blue, and that upsets the returned exile dreadfully. Mr. Faucitt feels like Rip Van Winkle. His first shock was when he found that the Empire was a theater now instead of a music hall. Then he was told that another music hall, the Trovill, had been pulled down altogether, and when on top of that he went to look at the baker's shop in Rupert street, over which he had lodged in the '80s, and discovered that it had been turned into a dress-maker's, he grew very melancholy.

Learns for Herself About Scrum-Halves

Mr. Faucitt, when he was a small boy, used to live in a little village at Gloucestershire, near a place called Cirencester—at least, it isn't; it's called Claster, which I bet you didn't know—and after forgetting about it for 20 years, he has suddenly been bitten by the desire to end his days there, surrounded by pigs and chickens. He took me down to see the place the other day. Oh, Ginger, this English country! Why any of you ever live in towns I can't think. Old, old gray stone houses, with yellow hawthorns and lovely, squelchy, muddy lanes and great fat trees and blue hills in the distance. The people, too, are so nice. I shall insist on the devil going me at least 40 years in some English country place in exchange.

Perhaps you will think from all this that I am too much occupied with your existence. Just to show how interested I am in you, let me tell you that, when I was reading the paper a week ago, I happened to see the headline, "In-ter-view with Mr. Faucitt," and I went to mean anything at first, and then I suddenly recollected. This was the thing you had once been a snip for! So I went down to a place called Twickenham, where this football

Bruce Carmyle Is Back in England

As I was taking a ride down Piccadilly the other day on top of a bus, I saw somebody walking along who seemed familiar. It was Mr. Carmyle. So he's back in England again. He didn't see me, thank goodness. I don't want to meet anybody just at present who reminds me of New York.

Thanks for telling me all the news, but please don't do it again. It makes me remember, and I don't want to. It's this way, Ginger: Let me write to you, because it really does relieve me, but don't answer my letters. Do you mind? I'm sure you'll understand.

So Fillmore and Gladys Wince are married. From what I have seen of her, it's the best thing that has ever happened to Brother F. She is a splendid girl. I must write you.

Laurette et Cie., London.

Dear Ginger—I saw in a Sunday paper last week that "The Primrose Way" had been produced in New York and was a great success. Well, I'm very glad. But I don't think the papers ought to print things like that. It's unsettling.

Next day, I did one of those funny things you do when you're feeling blue and lonely and a long way away from everybody. I called at your club and asked for you. Such a nice old man in uniform at the desk said in a fatherly way that you hadn't been in lately, and he rather fancied you were out of town, but would I take a seat while he inquired. He then summoned a tiny boy also in uniform, and the child skipped off chanting, "Mister Kemp! Mister Kemp!" in a shrill treble. It gave me such an odd feeling to hear your name echoing in the distance. I felt so ashamed for giving them all that trouble; and when the boy came back I slipped twopenny into his palm, which I suppose was against all the rules, though he seemed to like it.

Mr. Faucitt has sold the business and only cheered up a little when a lovely magenta fog came on and showed him that some things were still going along as in the good old days.

I am kept quite busy as Laurette et Cie., thank goodness. (Not being a French scholar like you—do you remember Jules?—I thought at first that Cie. was the name of the junior partner, and looked forward to meeting him. "Miss Nicholas, shake hands with Mr. Cie. one of your greatest admirers.") I hold down the female equivalent of your job at the Fillmore Nicholas Theatrical Enterprises Ltd.—that is to say, I'm a sort of right-hand woman. I hang around and sidle up to the customers when they come in, and say, "Charming weather, modom" (which is usually a black lie) and pass them on to the staff who do the actual work. I shouldn't mind going on like this for the next few years, but Mr. Faucitt is determined to sell. I don't know if you are like that, but every other Englishman has the old plan, which was sold, of course, at the end of act one to pay the bill's gambling debts.

same was to be, to see the sort of thing you used to do before I took charge of you and made you a respectable right-hand man. There was an enormous crowd there, and it was nearly squeezed to death, and I bore it for your sake. I found out that the English team were the ones in white shirts and that the ones in red were the Welsh. I said to the man next to me, after he had finished yelling himself black in the face, "Could you kindly inform me which is the English scrum-half?" And just at that moment the players came quite near where I was, and about a dozen assassins in red hurled themselves violently on top of the scrum-half. The fellow who has just fallen on the ball, Ginger, you are well out of it! That was the scrum-half, and I gathered that that sort of thing was a mere commonplace in his existence. Stopping a rush, it is called, and he is expected to do it all the time. The idea of you ever going in for such brutal sports! ## Rumors and Canards, Not All Kindly, Follow Prince's Bachelordom

Simple Fact Is That Heir Apparent to the Throne Has Not Yet Met the Woman He Would Care to Marry.

Many wild rumors about David's shying the married state are refuted by the writer of the following article, who from her intimate connection with the royal family is in a position to know.

BY A LADY OF THE ENGLISH COURT.
Third Article.

LONDON, Oct. 21.

It is a most unusual and extraordinary thing for the heir to a throne to remain unmarried at the age which the Prince of Wales has reached. The reasons for this are the constant and absorbing subject for gossip in the court, and from there have reached the British public at large, causing uneasiness and giving rise to the strangest and wildest fables. It is whispered that there is something wrong with the Prince, that he is unlikely ever to have children, that he is a woman hater and other such senseless and entirely unfounded fables.

The real reason is a simple one; that the Prince is hard to please, and that he has not yet found any one whom he wishes to marry. His preferences are known to all those who come in close contact with him; he refuses to be satisfied with mere beauty, or with mere wit and charm.

May Be American Girl.

The lady whom he will one day marry must have all these qualities: she must know how to dress with elegance and distinction, and she must be something more than a mere society woman, whatever her rank. So far no one has met his requirements. He is looking for, and he is in no hurry. He is good friends with the healthy, Amazonian, hard rider to hounds that he meets in his set, but it is no secret that the type has no deeper attractions for him.

Those who are nearest to him declare that it is as likely as not that his wife one day will be an American woman; since his tour of the States he has often been heard to express his admiration for the American girl.

Before the war it was regarded as certain that he would marry the Grand Duchess Tatiana, the most beautiful of the daughters of the Czar. She visited England; they met, and seemed really in love with one another. Then came the war and the terrible sequence of events that ended in the abominable butchery of the Czar and his family, poor Tatiana and the rest, in the cellar of the lonely house in Siberia. Since that day the Prince, in the opinion of his intimates, has never been quite the same. Apart from the murdered girl, there has never been any definite prospect of his marriage.

Of recent years, however, scandalous tongues, none the less venomous because they have in some

"Real Banquet Quality"

The strength, flavor, smoothness and aroma of Old Judge immediately place it in the class of coffees which are bought only for exclusive functions.

Your friends will like it, but your family will appreciate it more. All will say "It suits us perfectly—It's what we have been looking for."

It's surprising that such quality can be sold at such a reasonable price. The average family can afford Old Judge.

The Fashion Mirror

Handbags, shawls in the general trend toward the gorgeous in New York, have a large amount of embroidery in gold thread upon a dark moire background. The tendency is to mass the embroidery in the middle of the bag or at one side rather than have an all-over pattern.

The linen lingerie which has become a favorite with so many women in New York is now more trimly attractive than ever. It is of sheer white Belgian linen bound with pink or blue or orchid batiste, and dotted with insets of Turkish point or real fillet.

No glove is more attractive in England than that in brown leather, heavily stitched with brown and tan. Gauntlets are growing more popular, but this one has some eyelid motifs and is faced with tan to match the stitching.

There is no ornament of any kind, not even stitchery patterns, on one type of new shoes now on exhibit here in New York. These shoes depend for their style on a glove-fitting effect and on three or four narrow straps.

The vogue for gems scattered all over an evening gown has continued to get itself translated into street wear in New York. Some of the early velvet veils have gems of different sorts sewn lavishly through the mesh.

The skirt-and-sweater costume is still in demand in London for wear on the links and at the Country Club. Among the smart skirts are those that fasten on the side and express themselves in over plaids and velour checks.

Some of the new topcoats of semisports type shown in New York have a clever way of varying the otherwise too flamboyant stripe. Long panels of plain material set off the narrower panels of horizontal striping.

pretty chorus girls, with the request that the manager would send several of them down to supper with the Prince at a certain restaurant. The tale goes on that the manager, resenting the form in which the message was given, refused it, and reported the incident to the King. With the result that the equerry was dismissed and the Prince got a warning from his parents. In the first place, the Prince is a gentleman, in the second, no theatrical manager, especially the one of whom the story is told, would have thought of letting the Prince down in so sneaking a manner.

I have heard from those who ought to know that a friendship with a little actress, who lives in Sloane Square, and the Prince was, some years ago, not entirely platonic. I do not know anything more about this, but it strikes me as extremely unlikely. The life of a Prince is so hedged about with occupations, he is so seldom alone, that even if he wished anything like a vulgar intrigue would be quite impossible. At present the Prince is far too occupied with sport, with riding in particular, to trouble much about women at all. He dances with them, he is exquisitely polite, and one day, I am convinced, he will marry. There the matter rests. It is a position that does not seem satisfactory to many.

The majority of his subjects will be relieved and delighted to hear that he has at last taken the plunge and become engaged. Not one of them will be more so than the Queen, whom the persistence of the Prince in remaining a bachelor pains and annoys. She considers that it is his duty to marry and give an heir to the throne, and with the Queen duty is something more than a sentiment. She is, too, a born matchmaker, and the failure of her many attempts to bring the affair to a close has not been pleasant to her. After one of these she took the principal part in arranging the recent India trip for the Prince as a way of packing him off, almost in disgrace.

The fourth of this series, "The Prince and His Family," will be published on this page next Friday.

Bleeding gums—the warning signal

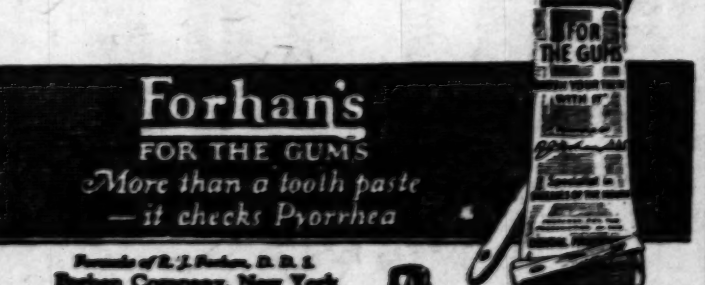

Do your gums bleed easily? Watch out for Pyorrhea, destroyer of teeth and health.

Pyorrhea claims four persons out of every five past forty, and thousands younger, too.

Play safe. Go to your dentist regularly for tooth and gum inspection.

Brush your teeth with Forhan's For the Gums. This healing dentifrice, if used consistently and used in time, will prevent Pyorrhea or check its progress.

Forhan's For the Gums is the formula of R. J. Forhan, D.D.S. Used as a dentifrice, it will keep your teeth white and clean and your gums firm and healthy. It is pleasant to the taste. At all druggists, 35c and 60c in tubes.

Children's Bedtime Story

By Thornton W. Burgess

There's nothing worse than dread suspense.
Of prisoners without defense.

—OLD MOTHER NATURE.

Danny and Nanny Meadow Mouse were prisoners. They had been caught and put in a comfortable wire cage by the aviator who flew the great man-bird. Danny had been a prisoner in the cage before, so he didn't mind it in the least. But Nanny was very much frightened. Yes, indeed, Nanny was very much frightened. She kept out of sight in the little box that was in that cage.

But Danny watched everything that was going on. You see, Danny was not afraid. He saw that aviator open that tiny cupboard in which he and Nanny had made their nest, and take that nest out. Then for some time he worked on that cupboard. He was lining it with tin; but, of course, Danny didn't know this. When he had finished he put the nest back.

"There," said he to Farmer Brown's Boy, "I guess they can live in there if they want to. They can't do any harm anyway. I didn't dare let them stay there unless I lined the little cupboard with tin, for fear they might gnaw their way out some time. I've made some little holes in the door so that they will have air enough if I want to shut them in there any time. Now we'll go all over this machine to see that it is in perfect order. If tomorrow morning is fair I am going to start for the South."

So far the rest of that day

Danny watched all that went on, and wondered what was going to happen.

The aviator and Farmer Brown's Boy were very busy. Danny watched all that went on, and wondered what was going to happen. But he didn't wonder nearly as much as did Nanny. You see, he had had experience. He guessed that that man-bird was being made ready to fly again, but he didn't tell Nanny this. He knew how dreadfully frightened she would be at the very idea.

For Nanny! How she did wish she never had thought of making a nest in that man-bird. How she did wish she had been satisfied with her old home in the old scarecrow! "What do you suppose is going to happen?" she squeaked to Danny when at last they were left alone.

Danny had it on the tip of his tongue to say he guessed they were going to fly, but he didn't say it. All he said was, "If we are patient, we'll find out." All the time he was wondering if, should the man-bird carry them away, it would bring them back.

Before the aviator and Farmer Brown's Boy left, the aviator placed that cage close to the partly open door of the little cupboard in such a way that when the door in the cage was open Danny and Nanny could run into the cupboard. But there was no way for them to get out of the cage or the cupboard. Plenty of food was left for them in the cage.

As soon as they were sure they were all alone Nanny ventured into the little cupboard. Somehow she felt better once she was in her own nest there. Curled up there she wondered what was going to happen.

POLO GROUNDS, New York
A scoreless tie in their 1932 football game, the Yale and Navy teams fought for the first part of the game in a driving rain, the two teams eleven put up a game battle, which kicking duels between West Point and Cullen of Annapolis stood out boldly.
The Army, in the stirring period, succeeded twice in success in blocking Navy punts on the new 16-yard line, but each time Maddy recovered and on his attempt Cullen kicked nearly to the goal from behind his own goal.
In the second period, Garling of the Army, missed a field goal on the 24-yard line. In the third period, from about the same point, Bur-Jet of the Navy missed a goal after he had intercepted a forward pass tossed by Raytheon of the Army to the 40-yard line.
Today's tie leaves the two academies deadlocked in series, each having won 12 games. It was the second tie since 1907, when the Army and Navy played a scoreless game.
By holding the Army to a Navy upset the betting done, which made the Army a slight favorite in today's battle.
A detailed account of the game follows:
First Quarter.
The Navy won the toss and led to defend the west goal. Both kicked to the Navy's 12-yard line. McKee ran the ball half yard and the Navy started a playing attack from its 42-yard line. Annapolis punted short on fourth down, the ball going to the Army on its 28-yard line. The game made first down on Navy's yard line, with Hewitt punting. Then the Navy stiffened and a play for the Army took the ball to midfield. Army punted and Navy began its attack from its yard line.
Cullen, on a line play, made yards. McKee made a run of yards, but the ball was taken, both teams being offside. A cross, Cullen to McKee, netted yards, and the Navy then made down to midfield.
The Midshipmen punted to the 15-yard line. The Sailors' line runners behind their line, an "X" back, standing on the 40-yard line, kicked to midfield, ran the ball back to the Cadets' yard line, but later was forced punt. Cullen's kick was blocked, then fumbled, and McKee recovered for Navy on Army's yard mark, as the quarter ended.
Score: Army, 0; Navy, 0.
SECOND QUARTER.
The second quarter opened with the Navy, who had the ball at right half, making down only to lose it when Navy punted for blocking and the ball went to midfield.
Annapolis punted to Army's yard line, where Raytheon, after the ball and fall on his team, to the end of the line, and the Army took three line plays then punted to the Navy's 40-yard line. The Navy substituted for Hewitt at quarter. The Navy found a punt on the fourth and set the ball on their 10-

Champion Lynch Heads Invading Army of Boxers

Clan Gathers Today in Advance of All-Star Battles at Coliseum, Tuesday.

BURMAN HERE SUNDAY

Show Will Be Most Extensive Attempted Here Since 1904 Season.

By John E. Wray.

Sports Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Complying with the Boxing Commission regulations ordering all boxers in local events to be on the ground at least 45 hours in advance of their matches here, nine of the 10 fighters who will make the old Coliseum echo to the slap of the leather will be here today. Joe Burman, the tenth man, will be in Sunday morning.

Eddie Mead of New York will bring three good boys, one a champion—Joe Lynch, Andy Chaney and Pee-wee Kaiser; Eddie Wagner of Philadelphia, Johnny Curtin of New York, Pat Moore of Memphis and Babe Barron of Chicago will also be here in time to work out today; Solie Kessler and George Butch are already on the ground.

This is the most imposing array of glove-wielders assembled in this city since 1904, and it will require an imposing turnout to unload the "nut" they represent from the stooping shoulders of Promoter James Muller of Chicago, who is fastening Tex Rickard methods on St. Louis.

Several of these boxers come here fresh from recent battles and need only polishing. Joe Lynch is on a turning up punch for the defense of his title at New York in the near future. Last night he kayoed Frankie Murray at Peoria.

Joe Not in Grave Danger.

Joe is in a peculiar situation. Although still champion in 47 states of the Union he is dethroned in New York and must box Abe Goldstein, to whom the commission awarded the vacant title, before he can retain his title. Another fighter who is more or less on probation as to his future, especially in this city, is Pee-wee Kaiser, now a protégé of Mike New York promoter, Eddie Mead. Kaiser has been working with Lynch and Chaney. They are all left-handed and all the difference that caused him to lose popularity here is Kaiser is really showing considerable confidence in coming back to this city to battle. It is no light task to fight down an unfavorable reputation but Burman has the reputation that Dundee lost prestige and his fight with Leonard was called off.

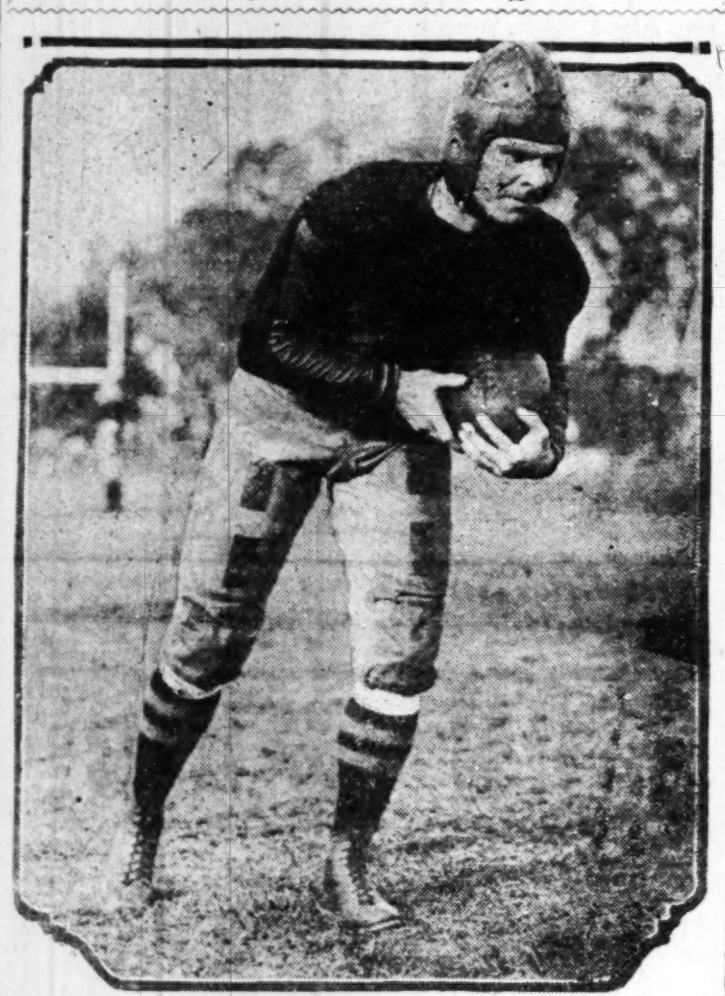

Wagner meets a dangerous puncher and a great one in Andy Chaney who has been seen here.

Solie Kessler meets little Babe Barron, who, at the 15 round, sent him to Jim Mullen. He has scored a succession of seven or eight knockouts. Kessler is a product of local amateur ranks.

Mullen's first show attracted $12,000. His expenses totaled $13,500, according to a statement he made on account exhibited. His overhead for the coming show runs between $12,000 and $15,000, and with the overhead the price he has asked for Muller's fight is $20,000. Muller says the Coliseum seats only 8,000 and not 12,000 as he had been told. He figures the capacity house at less than $13,000.

John Ewko, aspirant to heavyweight world championship, threw two opponents in bouts at the Gerick theater last night. Ewko had a 10 round fight with a 150 lb. Charles Brown, weight 235 pounds, in 25th minute, and a 15 round fight with Mike Moffitt in 11 minutes.

Ohio State Team Surprises by Holding the Mighty Illini

Score, end of first quarter: Illinois, 0; Ohio, 0.

A long forward pass, Britton to Grange, put the ball on the Ohio 45-yard line. Grange broke loose and ran 11 yards around the Ohio left end. It was fumbled down for the Ohio 32-yard line. Britton took a yard when the Ohio line held. Schultz replaced Melvin at fullback for Illinois. Grange's aerial attack was knocked down by the Buckeye back field.

Grange got through center for 5 yards. Britton's pass to Schultz was incomplete. And it was fourth down with 5 to go. Mohr relieved Richards at right end for Illinois and Grange plunged to Klee, who was downed on the 15-yard line. Workman's drive at the Illinois left flank gained 2 yards. Passing from his own goal line, Workman failed on an aerial attempt. He then punted 55 yards to Grange, who was stopped on the Illinois 45-yard line.

On the fourth down, with 6 to go, Britton tried a place kick from the Ohio 40-yard line. The ball rolled over the goal line. It was Ohio's back on the Buckeye 20-yard line. Workman was thrown for a 12-yard gain. Britton dodged through the line for 2 yards. From behind his goal line, Workman kicked to Grange, who tried to scoop up the ball and run, but recovered on his 39-yard line.

Wilson was injured, but resumed play. Schultz made 3 yards through center. Grange lost 5 yards when he tried an end run after a bad pass from center. Grange again took the ball, but was turned back without gain by Wilson. Buckeye left end.

Britton then punted to Klee, who was downed on Ohio's 15-yard line. Workman dodged through the line for 3 yards. Faking a punt, Workman forward passed to Wilson for a 15-yard gain. First down for Ohio on Illinois 29-yard line. Another pass, Workman to Wendler, against 7 yards. Wendler snatched the ball as it was about to hit the ground. Wendler was injured on the play. Schultz intercepted Workman's pass and ran 14 yards around Ohio's right end. Schultz plunged center for 3 yards. Workman took time out. Hamilton replaced Honaker at Ohio fullback. Workman intercepted Britton's long pass, giving Ohio State the ball on its own 25-yard line. Ohio was penalized 2 yards for taking time out to confer. Workman's pass fell into Hamilton's arms on the Illinois 45-yard line.

The Illini were trying desperately to score. Foreetti intercepted Britton's first attempt and Ohio took the ball on its own 47-yard line. Workman's forward to Wilson was arounded, but Ohio was given the ball on Illinois' 29-yard line when an Illinois player interfered with Wilson as he reached for the ball. There remained less than a minute to play. H. Hall knocked down Workman's pass to Foreetti on the Illinois 29-yard line. Another Ohio pass was arounded behind the goal. It was Illinois' ball on its own 20-yard line. Schultz plunged for four and the second period ended.

Score: Illinois, 0; Ohio, 0.

THIRD QUARTER.

Honaker was back at fullback for Ohio State when the third period opened. Workman kicked off to Schultz who ran back to his 34-yard line.

With two yards to go on fourth down, Britton attempted to punt and Wilson blocked it. Wendler recovered on the Illinois 45-yard line. Workman failed to gain on a try at the Illinois right flank.

His pass to Klee netted six yards. Another short pass, Workman to Klee, put the ball on the Illinois 7-yard line. Workman was using the short forward pass instead of the longer heaves. Honaker dashed through the Illinois left side for 4 yards. He took the ball to the Illinois two-yard line on his next plunge. Plunging again he missed a touchdown by inches.

Illinois Line Holds.

The Illinois line stopped Honaker on his final attempt and Illinois took the ball on the Illinois 45-yard line. Britton punted to Klee who was downed on the Illinois 45-yard line.

Workman passed to Klee, who recovered the ball at the side line. Illinois players claimed he was offside, but Ohio took first down on the Illinois 25-yard line. Devos replaced Honaker at fullback for Ohio. Honaker fumbled on the first play and Illinois took the ball on the 7-yard line. Grange gained three off the Ohio left tackle. Schultz hit center for two. Grange faked a pass and skirted Ohio's right tackle for five yards and first down on his own 37-yard line. Grange lost two yards when he attempted to run Ohio's left end.

Schultz dashed through center for five yards and first down on the Ohio 40-yard line. Devos plunged for a yard. Klee kicked. Grange's long forward pass was on the Ohio 40-yard line after a 30-yard run.

Grange broke through for nine yards. Wendler stopped him. Schultz stepped outside on the next plunge without gain. Grange made it first down on the Ohio 28-yard line when he faked a hole at center. Schultz was dropped without gain. The period ended with the ball in Illinois' possession on the Ohio 28-yard line.

Score at end of third period: Illinois, 0; Ohio State, 0.

FOURTH QUARTER.

Schultz failed to gain through center. Wilson spotted an Illinois pass. Grange to Britton. With fourth down and nine to go, Britton dropped back to his 37-yard line for a place kick.

From a bad angle, Britton booted the ball squarely between the uprights.

Score—Illinois, 3; Ohio State, 0.

Workman was downed on his 32-yard line. Pettoff stopped Schultz without gain. Green, Illinois center, was injured, but resumed play. Grange again was stopped, his drive at Ohio's left tackle netting him less than a yard. Time was taken out for Britton. Illinois fullback, but he continued to play.

Grange dashed through center for four yards. Grange made it first down on Ohio's 45-yard line. First down on Illinois' 45-yard line. Schultz made a yard on a line plunge. Starting from punt formation, Grange ran around the Ohio right end 21 yards, giving Illinois first down on the Buckeye 24-yard line. Schultz dove through center for two yards. Grange, behind excellent interference, slipped off the Ohio left tackle and ran 32 yards over the Buckeye goal, eluding several Ohio State tacklers. Score: Illinois, 3; Ohio State, 0.

Britton's attempt from place for the extra point went wide.

Score: Illinois, 3; Ohio State, 0.

NEBRASKA HOLDS SYRACUSE TO TIE IN THREE PERIODS

By the Associated Press.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 24.—Syracuse University and Nebraska University met on the football field here today in the day's great intersection of football classic. The New York Giants yesterday when the news came in of the reported trade of Rogers Hornsby of the St. Louis Cardinals to the Chicago Cubs for Hollocher, Hack Miller, Callaghan, Cheever and Osborne and $100,000 in cash.

"They've outbid us at last," said Mr. Stoneyham, with a troubled look at Judge McQuade. "It may not be true," said Judge McQuade, who has been in baseball long enough now not to believe everything he hears. And so it turned out. With Stoneyham had allowed that the deal would be a good one for both clubs, and that it would be a good off in a business way for the New York club, because it would bring in Chicago as really contending teams with the Giants, the news came that Sam Brown of the Cardinals had denied the story any trade involving Hornsby.

Which means that the Giants still have a chance.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—THERE was noticeable atmosphere of alarm at the offices of the New York Giants yesterday when the news came in of the reported trade of Rogers Hornsby of the St. Louis Cardinals to the Chicago Cubs for Hollocher, Hack Miller, Callaghan, Cheever and Osborne and $100,000 in cash.

"They've outbid us at last," said Mr. Stoneyham, with a troubled look at Judge McQuade. "It may not be true," said Judge McQuade, who has been in baseball long enough now not to believe everything he hears. And so it turned out. With Stoneyham had allowed that the deal would be a good one for both clubs, and that it would be a good off in a business way for the New York club, because it would bring in Chicago as really contending teams with the Giants, the news came that Sam Brown of the Cardinals had denied the story any trade involving Hornsby.

Which means that the Giants still have a chance.

Day of "Soft" Schedule for Football Teams Is Past, Says Bill Roper, Princeton Coach

Instead of a Card Gradually Increasing in Strength, Tendency Now Is to Meet All Comers Thereby Adding to Public Interest.

By William W. Roper.

Captain Princeton University Football Team, Champions of 1922.

Where are the so-called "soft" football games of a generation ago? Glance over the football results of the past few weeks and over the schedules of games remaining to be played and be bewildered by the amazing array of powerful football teams, and then realize what constitutes the modern football coach.

A generation ago Yale, Harvard, Pennsylvania and Princeton in the East represented about the best there was in football. Army frequently had powerful eleven, especially during the regime of the great Charley Daly at quarterback, who he had completed his career at Harvard. Navy also occasionally flashed a good team.

The Carlisle Indians represented about the greatest menace to the peace of minds of the so-called "Big Game" football coaches. Occasionally Dartmouth, Brown, Cornell or one or two other colleges broke loose with exceptional teams.

More Good Coaches.

But the coaches in those days slid down to their big games in November in comparative quiet and peace and with a gradually increasing scale of strength in scheduled teams. Not so now.

The woods are full of powerful football teams. Modern football has contributed much to this. But the most factor is the spread of football spirit, the training of football players in the schools to a degree never achieved in the old days.

Also it is contributed to in a large measure by the development of numbers of very high-grade coaches.

No longer can any game of a schedule be called easy. No longer can the coach sit back comfortably and save his players for the big games and feel secure in pitting second-string players against opposition.

Look at some of the early season schedules and realize the situation. Pittsburg, itself a powerful team and one of the teams that has used football calculations in recent years. Pitt opened with Bucknell, the team that scored twice against Yale, then had Lafayette,

West Virginia, Syracuse, Carnegie

tech and Pennsylvania. And after others are disposed of still has

Penn State as a closing game.

Penn's Fine Dish.

Pennsylvania has another corker.

The Red and Blue, after an opener against Franklin and Marshall, was forced to meet a powerful, rugged, well-developed team in Maryland, and then had such "easy" teams as

Lehigh, Columbia, Center, Pittsburg, Lafayette, Penn State and Cornell in succession.

Glance at the "easy" Penn State schedule. After three light games

it met in succession Navy, West Virginia and Syracuse, and still has

Pitt in prospect. Our own Princeton team, starting late, on Sept. 16, to be exact, had to meet Notre Dame,

Navy, Harvard and Yale.

College football coaches are faced with a problem in figuring out their game under these conditions. Understand, I am strong for the hard schedules. After all, winning games is not the sole desire in college football, and especially winning from every team in the land. There is satisfaction for any coach and any player and any student body in victory over natural rivals in the so-called big games of the season.

Defeat is not necessarily hardships. Sometimes teams rise from beatings better and stronger and more completely equipped for later games. Princeton suffered a severe beat at the hands of Notre Dame, but I believe the team benefited by the game, because the players learned much, lost not a whit of heart.

The members of the Red and Green teams will be given a rest today and on Monday will hold their last practice of the season at Francis Field.

Monday the squad will depart for the game with Tulane. University men who played against Missouri will be in condition to oppose the Southerners and in addition will have the flashy little end, who is able to hold down a strong position.

With Dugdale able to play an end,

the coaches will probably use Capt.

Wells at his regular berth at center. Hirsch held down the center job against Missouri in the last game.

Chicago Stars to Bowl Tonight in Mid-West Tourney

Commodore Barry, who and Thomas Among 16 Teams Which Will Compete.

Three squads of visiting teams will tonight in the Middle West Bowling Tournament. Yesterday an open date.

In the first squad tonight there are four teams from Louisville, from St. Paul, four from Chicago. On the second squad two from St. Paul, four from Chicago, one from Lincoln, Neb., and from Hammond, Ind.

Chicago will have complete position of the stars starting at 11 o'clock, when eight teams from the city are scheduled. Among them are the Brucks, of which Phil is captain and Jimmy Blouin member. It is expected there will be some good scores shot by some of these teams.
